ALDERMEN URGE BUILDING OF SUBWAY NOW

Members of Transportation Committee Want Outlying Patrons Served

A lively session Monday afternoon of the local transportation committee of the city council had little effect on the city's transit problem and the various plans that have been proposed for its solution, unless, possibly, it brought the aldermen nearer a decision to submit the subway to a vote as a separate proposal Thursday another meeting of the committee will be held.

Voters should be given an opportunity to enter the traction fight in February by the provision of an order introduced by J. O. Kostner of the local transportation committee Wednesday, calling for that committee to prepare an ordinance upon which the public can have a referendum.

"Dig Subway Now"

He praised the efforts of the mayor to get action on better transportation facilities but explained, "Every person in an alderman's ward holds him personally responsible for the present condition of traffic congestion. The man who refuses to act now will be dropped as a public servant by his constituency Build the subway now"

Mayor Dever set forth his suggestions for a rapid transit plan Wednesday afternoon in a report involving 9,000 words to which fifty aldermen listened attentively

He stands for unification of the subway, surface and elevated lines and for their municipal ownership. If the purchase of surface and elevated lines cannot be effected, the mayor, advocates building a city owned subway which will be supplemented by "L" lines at each end. He favors short-stops, assessment of the property benefited to meet the construction costs and a two-track subway. Major R. F. Kelker has submitted a physical outline for the construction of subway and elevated lines in the event that the Chicago Surface lines and the City Railway company, of which Leonard Busby is president, refuses to sell their holdings at the price quoted by the mayor.

Major Kelker's report involves the building of a two-track subway in Clark st. from Chicago ave. to Polk st., extending west in Chicago ave. to Orleans st. and also west in Polk to Jefferson st.; an "L" line in Milwaukee ave. to Irving Park blvd., linked with the subway; an "L" line in Blue Island and Ashland aves connecting with the subway at Jefferson st. and later extensions of the "L" lines.

Byrne Criticizes Plan

Two-track lines were criticized Monday by Alderman Thomas F. Byrne of the 15th ward, a member of the local transportations committee

"The machinery that builds a two-track line can be used to build a four-track subway line that would accommodate future increases in subway patrons," he stated. "The public wants transportation relief now, but demands that we have a real subway instead of a makeshift one."

He is against assessing property owners for construction of the subway, and thinks the $40,000,000 traction appropriation should be used instead. Alderman Kostner also has made that recommendation. If the appropriation is insufficient, Alderman Byrne believes construction and operation of the rapid transit system should be given to private enterprise rather than additionally taxing the "overburdened public."

Short stops in preference to long distance routes have also been flouted by him as of no benefit to the people of outlying districts. "The short stops cause traffic congestion at loop transfer points and the subsequent loss of time," he pointed out. "Direct routes are needed"

Aldermen were given a surprise by a letter received at noon the day of the first council meeting from Leonard Busby of the south side lines offering interchangeable transfers between the city's proposed rapid transit line and street cars of his system. It was hailed as an attempt on his part to reopen negotiations with Mayor Dever for the purchase of the south side lines.

Alderman McDonough was successful in fighting an order introduced into the council last week for the appointment of a committee of 100 representative Chicago men to obtain permanent sites for playgrounds in all parts of the city. The alderman succeeded in having the matter referred to the committee on playgrounds and recreations and vociferously attacked the policy of delegating to private citizens duties which in the past have been "discharged suitably by the council committee on playgrounds."

LIONS SEE THEMSELVES AS OTHERS SEE 'EM

"Oh, wad the power the giftie gie us " and Englewood Lions once, at least, are going to have opportunity to see themselves as others see them

The motion pictures taken of the "rip-roaring" festivities that marked the opening two weeks ago of the club's fall and winter season are to be shown at local theaters in accordance with the following schedule:

Tonight, Wednesday, at the Lynn theater, 63rd and Aberdeen sts; Thursday at the Harvard theater; Friday at the Linden; Saturday at the New Regent, 69th and Halsted, and Sunday at the E. A. R., 69th and Wentworth.

LACK OF FOUR NAMES HOLDS CLOSING GAP IN HALSTED "WHITE WAY"

ANOTHER CANVASS TO SECURE PROPERTY OWNERS' SIGNATURES IS UNAVAILING

Another effort on the part of business people in the 67th and 68th st. block on Halsted to secure necessary signatures for the installation of business street lights there has proven unavailing.

That block is now the sole remaining one between 59th and 71st sts, without the lights and repeated efforts have been made during the past two or three years to secure the unanimous consent of property owners necessary for their installation

At present only four remain who refuse to sign, the majority, about thirty-five in number, being anxious to put their block on a par with the rest of Englewood's "white way"

A self-appointed committee composed of Mrs. Anna Stepanek and George Stepanek, 6715 Halsted st, Frank Guptill, 6707 Halsted st, and Henry Kloese, of the 69th and Halsted bank, made a canvass late last week in an effort to reduce the opposition, but with no success.

"Those blocking the improvement simply say that they don't need any lights when approached on the matter," said Mr. Stepanek. "I asked one man why he didn't turn out all the lights in his windows then—maybe he could thereby attract even more trade than he was getting with dark streets—but I didn't get any very logical answer from him"

'MESSAGE OF O. HENRY' PROVES ENTHRALLING TO ENGLEWOOD LIONS

PROFESSOR W. B. AMSBARY OF ARMOUR TECH PRESENTS INTERESTING TALK

While members of the Englewood Lions club, some of them accompanied by their wives or lady friends, listened enthralled as they sat in the College cafe on Englewood ave., Wallace Bruce Amsbary, professor and lecturer on general literature at Armour Institute of Technology, dwelt for half an hour Tuesday noon on "The Message of O. Henry."

Professor Amsbary's discourse, which was of exceptional interest, not alone because of its import but also due to the engaging manner in which several O Henry readings were delivered, took his audience through the great short story writer's rather hectic career and vividly stamped the high lights on every mind.

Some of the less commonly known facts about the author's life mentioned were that he was born in Greensboro, N. C; that he was gifted as a cartoonist, even as a boy; that he was sentenced to a five-year term in a Columbus, O, prison for alleged misuse of funds entrusted to him while employed in a Texas bank; that he once owned and conducted a small publication called "The Rolling Stone", and that he lived at various times in Central and South America, New Orleans and New York City

According to Professor Amsbary, O. Henry remarked once that he could gaze 100 years at the beautiful mountains in his native state of North Carolina and never gain an idea for a story, yet he could walk one block in New York City and readily gather inspiration. This was because he could see a story in almost every human face.

The business of the Lions' meeting consisted principally of reports by Secretary John Barrett and Tail Twister Edward H. Dougherty on a recent meeting of the club's directors. At this session, they stated, it was decided to stage the comic opera "The Mikado" at the Marlowe theater on November 21 and 25 for the benefit of several charitable organizations, each of which is to undertake the sale of a large number of tickets. There are, it was said, prospects of several thousand tickets being disposed of in this manner.

SOUTH SIDE COUNCIL OF PARENT-TEACHERS TO MEET AT COLLEGE

DISTRICT JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT TO SPEAK OF HIS DEPARTMENT

Joseph F. Gonnelly, district superintendent of junior high schools, will speak Thursday afternoon in room 200 of the Chicago Normal college, 6800 Stewart ave. The meeting, under the auspices of the Chicago South Side council of Parent-Teacher associations, will begin at 3 o'clock with the president, Mrs. C. P. Montgomery, 5545 Woodlaw ave, in charge

The speaker will explain the system of "Junior High Schools," attempting to clear up what he considers misunderstanding and ignorance of the subject.

Parent-Teacher association members representing twenty-eight of the fifty-six south side schools of the city will be present. Non members are also welcome.

WOMEN OF OAKHAVEN QUILT FOR BAZAAR

Expert quilters, all of whom are past 70 years old and residents at Oakhaven home, meet weekly with Mrs. C. M. Woodman, 6321 Lowe ave., to make quilts for the bazaar to be given by the institution November 20 and 21 in the Englewood Masonic temple, 6734 Wentworth ave.

Quilts made by the eight women sell for sums between $50 and $130 and the demand is greater than they can supply, according to Mrs Woodman. The chairman of the quilting committee is Mrs. Walter Metcalfe, 6565 Harvard ave The Hamilton Park Woman's club will serve the dinners each evening at the bazaar.

SOUTHTOWN'S OFFICE SEEKERS ARE NUMEROUS

Economist Lists Local Candidates of Both Political Parties

Interest is centered on the elections of next Tuesday when voters will be called upon to select their favorites from a long list of candidates State and county offices must be filled as well as presidential electors named Southtown is the "home town" of several candidates from both political parties for important positions, and residents here will be interested in knowing who, of their neighbors, these men are.

Alderman Thomas F Byrne, 15th ward is seeking promotion to the position of Sanitary District trustee on the Democratic ticket As alderman Mr Byrne has been returned to the council repeatedly, and has been chairman and member of all the important committees in that body. He has lived in West Englewood more than twenty-five years.

As their representative in congress third district voters are given their choice of two Southtown candidates Elliott W Sproul, 9557 Hoyne ave, Republican nominee for the office, is seeking re-election Dr. Joseph Timinus, dentist and real estate dealer with offices at 6301 Halsted st., is the Democratic candidate. He has never before sought or held public office

In the 11th Senatorial district, voters are called upon to elect three representatives to the general assembly. Of four candidates for the place, three are seeking re-election, having served one term each. John M. Lee, 6920 Carpenter st., is a candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket. Early in his term he introduced a bill for a farm colony for mental defectives, which was allowed to die in committee due to lack of funds to carry out its provisions. He served on the following committees, agriculture, civil service, municipalities and senatorial apportionment. He had the unanimous endorsement of the 18th ward Democratic organization in the primaries and is recommended by the Legislative Voters' league for re-election

David I Swanson, 7842 Marshfield ave, Republican, is also seeking re-election. He too is endorsed by the Voters' league. During the past session Mr. Swanson, who is an attorney, was an active member of the committee on civil service, congressional apportionment, judicial department and practice, judiciary, military affairs and municipalities.

The third candidate for re-election, a Democrat, is George A. Fitzgerald, 7225 Perry ave.

Walter R. Miller, 9412 Vanderpoel ave., an instructor at Lindblom high school, is the second Republican candidate for the representative seat.

The Democratic nominee for Board of Assessors is Michael K. Sheridan, 5608 Peoria st, member of the firm of Shuberth and Sheridan, real estate dealers at 7918 Halsted st. He is now completing a term in this office and has served there previously.

Alderman John H. Lyle, 17th ward, is seeking election as municipal judge. He served as representative in the general assembly previous to becoming a member of the city council

James A. Kearns, 21 W Garfield blvd, is candidate to succeed himself as clerk of the municipal court. Mr. Kearns was formerly alderman of the old 31st ward.

GIRL'S DEATH RESULTS FROM AUTO ACCIDENT

Injuries received in an automobile accident September 16 resulted in the death Wednesday of Miss Mary Milosh, 17, 7125 Lafayette ave. Since the collision last month at the corner of 22nd st. and Wentworth ave, when her skull was fractured, the girl has been at the Wesley hospital

POLICE CAPTURE MAN IN ACT OF LOOTING ENGLEWOOD HOME

BELIEVE THIEF IMPLICATED IN DOZEN RECENT BURGLARIES IN VICINITY

With the proceeds of three burglaries in his possession, Frank Zielinski was arrested Saturday morning by Officers Edward McDonough and William J. Coffey while in the act of looting the home of Fred Kuhn at 17 W. Marquette rd Confessions made by Zielinski, who bears a long criminal record and is now wanted for a $10,000 bond forfeiture, led the officers to believe they have captured a thief that has committed more than a dozen burglaries in the vicinity within the past few months.

Zielinski was at work in the Kuhn home when the officers in a flivver squad arrived. The thief had locked the doors after him and while Coffey stood guard at the front McDonough broke in the window in the rear door and unhooked the chain that barred his entrance.

Although armed, Zielinski gave the officers no difficulty. In his pockets were found jewelry and currency valued at $1,000 that he had taken in robbing the home of Henry Gray at 22 W. Marquette rd., and Mrs. Margaret Anderson, 24 W. Marquette rd, as well as the Kuhn home The burglaries at Gray's and Anderson's had been committed just previous to breaking into Kuhn's.

Zielinski is a dope addict and a large quantity of cocaine was found in his pockets. He gave his address as 3316 E. 91st st. and his age as 25 years He told of a number of other burglaries he had committed in the district but was unable to give the addresses of the homes he entered

The police are checking up his story and hope to charge him with a number of crimes. He has served over five years at the Pontiac reformatory for burglary and jumped bonds after being held to the grand jury last spring by Judge Barasa on similar charges.

On three charges of burglary, Zielinski was arraigned before Judge Francis B. Allegretti in the Grand Crossing court Tuesday. His attorney obtained a continuance of the case until November 12 and the bonds were set at $5,000 on each charge.

"All Set" For Kiwanis Show Tonight

Tonight, Wednesday, will be staged the first of the two entertainments, "The Jollies of 1924," to be given by the Englewood Kiwanis club at the South Side Masonic temple, 64th and Green sts, and from all indications the affair will be a great success, both from the standpoint of the audience and the club members who are anxious to raise funds for the community work being carried on by the organization.

Although there are plenty of tickets on hand at the box office to supply those who desire to attend but have not already purchased admission a capacity crowd is expected at both the performance tonight and that of tomorrow evening.

Reserved seats have not been sold, and it is urged by the committee in charge that everyone come a little early so as to facilitate the seating. The performance of the minstrel show is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock promptly and the musical comedy, "The Inside Inn," will be staged immediately afterward in order to allow at least three hours for the public dancing to follow. A Benson orchestra will furnish the dance music.

Final dress rehearsals of the stage programs were held Monday night, and as a fitting climax to over a month of practice the performances were staged faultlessly. The professional directors, Delos Owen and Charles Carrell, of the Joe Bren Production company, are more than satisfied with the co-operation the cast has given them.

MUSICAL DIRECTOR FOR WBCN NAMED

All musical phases of the activities of WBCN, the Southtown Economist radio station now building on the south side, will be under the direct supervision of Guy Shrigley, a musician of years' standing in the Chicago field His appointment as musical director has just been given out by Station Director Robert Northrop, who believes the choice will result in placing WBCN's music, both instrumental and vocal, on a par with the best in the country.

Mr. Shrigley is known best for his connection with such famed orchestras as Benson's, Jack Chapman's, Frank Westphal's and Ferdinand Steindel's, with which he starred as a saxophonist and pianist. Ernie Young's organization also has claimed him.

Besides playing all models of saxophones—from C soprano to bass—Mr. Shrigley is proficient on the flute, clarinet and oboe. On some of these instruments he has played, individually or in a group, at a number of broadcasting stations.

Song-writing is another of Mr. Shrigley's lines of endeavor, he having composed many popular numbers. It is quite probable that WBCN's listeners will more than once receive a new number of his before other ears are permitted to hear it. Most of the station's piano accompaniment will be by Mr. Shrigley.

Although born in McCarthy, Ohio, Mr. Shrigley, who is 33 years old, really is a product of Marion, Ohio, the home of the late President Harding, for it was there that he began his musical career when but a tot. For the last fifteen years, however, he has been a Chicagoan.

HENRY J. MEHL TAKES OWN LIFE FRIDAY NIGHT

Was Proprietor of Drug Store Established Here by Father 35 Years Ago

No motive could be discovered for the suicide of Henry J. Mehl, 47 years old, proprietor of the drug store at 6700 Halsted st, by the coroner's jury that investigated the man's death at the inquest held Saturday morning in the undertaking establishment of the Western Casket company, 6659 Halsted st. Mehl ended his life by firing a bullet into his heart shortly after midnight Saturday morning

Dr. E. C. Morton, 6801 Union ave., who was a friend of Mehl and had known him since he came to Chicago thirty-five years ago, and an attorney representing the family both stated, in testifying to Deputy Coroner Charles Detrick, that they knew of no business or family troubles that might have caused the druggist to take his life.

Both stated, however, that Mehl appeared depressed at times and Dr. Norton said that the druggist had told him a short time ago that he "was tired of working in the store day and night."

Marion Mehl, a 19 year old daughter, was the only member of the family present and she told the story of the shooting Asleep in the flat above the store where the Mehls live, she was awakened by a shot. Knowing that her father was in the bedroom and fearing that something had happened, she ran downstairs where her mother, Mrs Nellie Mehl, and her grandmother, Mrs. Marian Taylor, were awaiting the return of Alma, an older daughter, who was out They summoned Dr. Morton. He entered the bedroom and found Mehl lying face downward on the floor, dead. There was a bullet wound in his chest and a revolver from which one shell had been fired was on the bed.

The drug store owned by Mehl was established thirty-five years ago by his father, William Mehl, who died about six years ago He was reputed to own much real estate but at the inquest it was disclosed that his realty holdings consisted only of two pieces of vacant property.

Besides his daughters and his wife, Mehl is survived by a son, William, 12 years old He was a member of the Normal Chapter of the A. F. & A. M. The funeral was held from the undertaker's chapel Monday afternoon and interment was made at Beverly cemetery.

BIG DELEGATION OF EX-SERVICE MEN TO BE OUT FOR DENEEN

SOUTHTOWN SENATORIAL CANDIDATE ADDRESSES LARGE GROUP AT E. B. M. A. MEET

With anticipations of having a delegation of 500, members of the Ex-Service Men's Deneen-for-Senator club will assemble at the club headquarters, 6435 Halsted st, at 8 o'clock next Friday evening and go in a body to Lindblom high school where, in the assembly room, a joint mass meeting of Republicans from the 15th, 16th and 17th wards will be held.

The group will be headed by the Ex-Service Men's band, and most of the men will be in uniform. Reservations have been made in the assembly room for 500.

Charles S. Deneen, former governor of Illinois and Southtown resident, who is Republican nominee for the United States senatorship, was the chief speaker at last week's meeting of the Englewood Business Men's association.

He was introduced by Harry M. Englestein, an ardent worker in the Business Men's Deneen-for-Senator club—and who W G. Tegtmeier, that organization's president, made a point of naming as a Democrat—who said the former governor "stands supreme in vision, ability and intellect. Many of us do not appreciate the opportunities that are offered us in the support of such a man"

"I want to express my appreciation," said Mr Deneen, at the opening of a discourse on the activities of the present administration, "of the support given me by the Town of Lake in the primaries I am rather proud of the fact that I carried all the counties in the state where I have, at one time or another, lived."

And at the close, "If you don't like me, send me to Washington to get rid of me; and if you do like me, send me anyway. But whatever happens, I know that I have your good will and I want to keep it."

A large number of association members and guests were present to hear Mr. Deneen's talk. Among those introduced were F. E. Schneider, president of the Auburn Park Lions club, P. J. Dougherty, president of the Central Business Men's association, Irwin Penhallegon president of the Englewood Civic and Commercial association, James Rea, and Judge George E Curran, who has been presiding in the Wabash ave. speeders court during the past six weeks.

"Speeding is a matter of condition rather than miles," said the latter, in a short talk, "If the drive against it is to bring results it must be carried on in the parts of town where a large number of people have been injured If believe reckless, careless drivers should be jailed, but I am opposed to the arbitrary arresting of large numbers."

BREAK GROUND FOR ENGLEWOOD "Y" WITHIN WEEK

Management Committee Accepts Plans at Monday Meeting

Breaking of ground for the Englewood Y. M. C. A., on the site purchased some time ago north of 63th st, between Union and Lowe aves., will probably take place within a week as the result of acceptance of building plans by the committee of management of the Englewood department at a meeting held Monday night.

Lifting of the first steamshovelful of earth—long anticipated event by those who have put their hearts into the effort to secure a "Y" for Englewood—will be made the occasion for a suitable ceremony.

As soon as the day and hour are definitely set, plans will be made for the observances, at which members of the committee and many workers in the financial campaign of a year ago will be present

Although the plans are accepted it may be some days before the construction contracts are let. But that will not deter the excavation, which will proceed immediately. Plans call for a comparatively large amount of space below grade, as the handball courts, the swimming pool, and the boiler room will all be on the "basement" floor.

H. W Baumgartner, chairman of the building committee, met earlier in the day Monday with the architect and a representative of the building committee of Austin where a new building is also being put up and received bids on the construction. The Englewood and Austin plans are identical with the exception of the gymnasiums Englewood's "gym" will be ten feet wider than that of the Austin building.

The plans finally accepted are those announced in the Economist a month ago as tentatively approved and call for four stories and basement, of red brick and white stone There will be 200 dormitory rooms and a swimming pool on the 66th st. side at the extreme eastern end. The pool will have a spectators' balcony, an unusual feature in "Y" buildings. The main gymnasium will be at the northeast corner of the building, with an auxiliary gym directly over the swimming pool.

WIDOW OF DR. REESE CALLED BY DEATH

Only five months after the death of her husband, Dr. Joseph Reese, Mrs. Clara H. Reese, 62, died Saturday at her home, 841 W. Garfield blvd At her bedside were her daughters, Mrs. Laura R. Barnes of Omaha, Nebr, Mrs Josephine R. Stevenson of New York City, and Mrs. Isabella R. Beach of Riverside, Ill.

Mrs Reese was born at Racine, Ohio, and had lived in Englewood thirty-seven years. She was a charter member of the Green Street Congregational church, and belonged to the Englewood Woman's club and the Mathesis club. With her husband, who was one of the founders of Englewood hospital, she was active in charitable and philanthropic work, regardless of creed or color

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Green Street Congregational church, 56th and Green sts. The Rev R. Keane Ryan, pastor of the Garfield Boulevard Presbyterian church, preached the sermon. He was assisted by the Rev. Robert Inglis of Oak Park, formerly pastor of the Green Street church, and the Rev. Francis C. Snyder, present pastor of that congregation. Doctors of the staff of the Englewood hospital acted as pall bearers. Interment was made at Mt. Hope cemetery.

BAKERY DRIVERS GIVE MILK FUND $306.50

For the benefit of the Kiwanis club's milk fund for poor children $306.50 was put into the hands of Milton Price of the Englewood organized this week by Jack Sheehy, representing the Bakery Drivers' union.

The sum represented total proceeds from a baseball game played by the Bakery Drivers against the Milk Drivers' union several weeks ago at White Giants Park.

Besides Mr Sheehy, the committee in charge of the benefit consisted of John Salstrom and Bob Hughes, official business agents for Bakery Drivers union, local 734, and Herbert Gebler "Little Bob" Figg announced the entertainment features at the game and the band music was donated by Al Sloan Representative John M. Lee threw the first ball and Alderman Patrick F. Ryan caught it. The game was won by the Milk Drivers.

Blunt to Instruct in Balloting

As a feature of the meeting of the Englewood Business Men's association Thursday at the College cafe, Secretary Raymond S. Blunt is scheduled to give instructions in voting in an effort to prevent the loss of votes through faulty markings According to statistics about 40 per cent of all votes cast could be discarded because of some technicality, and Secretary Blunt's talk is expected to be helpful at the coming election.

Frank Commerford will be the speaker, and his ability is well known in the community Entertainment will be furnished by Frank Harcourt and his cast in the burlesque show "Roll Hoss," appearing at the National theater this week.

NORMAL IMPROVEMENTS ARE PUT UNDER WAY

The passing of the "holey circle," time-honored institution and nuisance of the Chicago Normal college, is causing no grief among students and faculty of the Normal group. The badly broken asphalt pavement that surrounds the college building has for years started the day wrong for teachers and pupils, but work has now begun on the new road, the first of a series of improvements planned for the college campus.

When the new pavement is completed, which will be before the frost, the only entrance to the campus will be from South Normal pkwy. The road will pass directly on either side and in front of the building, leaving the stretch of campus cut only by a 20-foot sidewalk from the steps of the college building to north Normal pkwy. The circle as it is now, and the entrance to north Normal pkwy., will be torn up and sod laid in its place

Further improvements to be started next spring are greenhouses for use in the college and high schools, tennis courts along Normal blvd., an equipped playground for smaller children in front of the Parker practice building, and a fence to completely surround the campus, with gates at various entrances.

The whole campus will be improved except the extreme east end, which is being saved for the proposed model junior high school.

SIDDER'S
6240-6242 SO. HALSTED ST.
LARGEST READY-TO-WEAR STORE

Here is the Best Answer and Winner of $50.00 Prize for
"Why Sidders is the store in which shopping is profitable pleasure"

Chicago, Ill., October 14th, 1924.

Prize Committee,
Care Sidders,
6240-42 S Halsted St.,
Chicago, Ill.

Sidders' ads are a straightforward statement of the merchandise they have to sell with prices plainly stated. Their sales offered are bona-fide—values supreme. By carefully studying their ads one may become educated in the art of dressing well. One sees what is being worn by women and girls who dress properly. Their ads express confidence and assurance of good faith.

Next, their store windows back up their ads. They are artistically arranged, dignified, with prices plainly marked.

Upon entering the store one feels welcome immediately. The inside carries on the impression gained through their ads and window display. It is immaculate with attractive merchandise displayed in such a way as to best serve the customer.

Quiet, dignified service is immediately at one's command. The force of workers are helpful without being oppressive. One feels free to examine the merchandise under expert help, and to buy or not to buy—but one usually buys. The values received, the style offered, their suitability, makes shopping there a profit and pleasure.

When it is necessary to return garment or mistake has been made, there is always willingness to co-operate with the customer.

Summed up, I find shopping at "SIDDERS" a profit and pleasure because of—

1. Advertisements
Shopping guide. Straightforward statements. Educating. Express the class of the store. Inspire confidence.

2. Window Display
Upholds ads. Prices plainly marked. Artistic. An invitation to enter. Up-to-the-minute. Variety expressed.

3. Store
Welcome felt. Confidence gained. Variety of choice. Efficient and willing service offered. More value for less money. Well-lighted, airy.

4. Service
Quietly dressed, efficient workers. Plenty sales help. Ready to help in selection, but never oppressive. Ready to right mistake. Pleasant, courteous. Well-trained in the knowledge of their work.

5. Merchandise
Variety; style, suitability; values supreme; quality; beauty; distinctive.

A purchase at SIDDERS insures a garment. I save money while shopping at SIDDERS.

VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

Vote November 4! The mandate has been before the American public during the preceding month, and the American public will doubtless hear and see it in print numerous times more during the coming week. Yet millions of potential voters will not cast a ballot next Tuesday. Why? For a variety of reasons. Chief of them is apathy—laziness, even—the unwillingness of the average man and woman to assume any responsibilities not literally forced upon him or her. Others reason that their individual views are not adequately represented by any of the nominees, hence helping any of them to office under those circumstances would savor of dishonesty. Still others find it inconvenient to get to the polls—and "let it go."

Jailing of non-voters has been suggested as a remedial measure. The individual who carelessly ignores or lazily shirks his first and most important duty as a citizen of the United States is little better than a felon, yet his punishment, however richly deserved, would not have the desired effect. A man forced to the polls by the fear that his government will chastise him if he remains at home is not likely to cast his ballots to the best interests of that government, if, indeed, he takes the pains to attempt to inform himself which candidates most probably will serve those best interests.

Obviously, apathy toward and disinterest in his right of franchise on the part of the private citizenry, which all too often results in allowing forces of corruption to gain control, must be overcome through educational processes—education in which not only schools and voters' organizations should provide teachers, but every public spirited citizen should strive to enlist the intelligent participation of his associates in his country's government.

The polls will be open next Tuesday from 6 in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It should allow ample opportunity for everyone, no matter how busy, to cast his vote either before or after working hours. There is probably no necessity for making election day a holiday, but certainly every employer should see that his workers have opportunity to reach the polls.

"Vote as you please, but vote." So reads the appeal the Woman's City club is making. An unintelligent ballot may do more harm than good, perhaps, but with the duty of action upon us we are likely to do our conscientious best. So vote to the best of your ability, even though you may not be as thoroughly informed as you would like.

TO OUR OLD SETTLERS

For "old times' sake" a large group of Englewood's pioneers got together Tuesday evening to dine and sing and talk of the days that used to be. The Englewood Old Settlers association is an adjunct to the permanence, the progress and community spirit of our district the value of which is immeasurable and no attempt has ever been made to apply to it the yardstick. In her large and interested Old Settlers association Englewood has a force for good which she should strive to strengthen and perpetuate. For over twenty-five years all members of the association have lived in Englewood and they have learned to love the community and their friends of long standing in it in a way those haphazard residents who come and go with the seasons cannot appreciate.

And so we say—to our old settlers! May they continue to encourage us all in community loyalty by their devotion to the "old home town."

HALLOWE'EN

Delightful, "spooky" days of the pumpkin face and the ghost party. Dear they are to childhood—and who among the grown-ups does not derive some pleasure from observances of the season? Just how the existing customs in connection with October's close developed from what was originally a saints' day it would be difficult to trace. It would be much more difficult to reason out just why Southtown's youth—boys especially, perhaps—feel that the approach of Hallowe'en is a signal for the wholesale defacement of store windows, automobile windshields, and what not, by soap and chalk. The fun in a Hallowe'en prank, seems to us, should depend somewhat upon the originality of its conception and the degree of daring required to carry it out. It doesn't take much "nerve," certainly, for a youngster surreptitiously to implant hieroglyphics on a window as he passes—even if business men out in Chicago Lawn plan to have arrests made and prosecute offenders. And there certainly isn't a spark of originality in doing what a dozen boys in each block are doing!

But the point is aside from that. The practice has an abominable effect upon the appearance of a neighborhood. Children should early be taught—by parents and teachers and the example of those who live about them—that a good citizen is interested in the cleanliness of his surroundings and strives to improve the appearance of his neighborhood rather than deface it. School boys and girls have chiefly conducted the spring "paint-up-clean-up" campaigns of the Association of Commerce. With a little effort on the part of their elders they could doubtless learn there is plenty of Hallowe'en fun to be had without smearing the town's plate glass for weeks before and after the holiday.

AMATEUR DRAMATICS

Englewood is fortunate in having one of the few parks in the South Park system where dramatic work, under the direction of Miss Henrietta Fetzer, has been instituted. At Ogden park dramatic clubs have been formed and work is under way on productions soon to be staged. Amateur dramatic work may seem inconsequential. Certainly, much of it provides no very real entertainment for the audience when it is produced in public. Yet the benefits to the producers are not at all imaginary.

Ability to maintain poise is one of the most worth-while of accomplishments for anyone who must, or would, mingle much with his fellows, either in a business or a social way. A little experience "behind the footlights" is invaluable for developing this desirable command of the situation. Appreciation for the drama, cultivation of the voice, development of one's ability to speak in public—these are a few of the benefits that may be derived from consistently participating in dramatic work. Incidentally, there is always a bare possibility one may discover he has some latent histrionic talent worth developing. But the value of the work and the pleasure to be derived from it does not hinge upon that.

We have various dramatic organizations here but there is plenty of room for further work in the field. While nearly every small town in the United States has its annual "home talent" play, and in many places the amateur dramatic work in school, church or club circles forms an important and humanizing part of the community life, local folk largely appease their theatrical yearnings by seeing the latest stage hits or by attendance upon a weekly vaudeville show. A majority of the people in the district never consider the possibility of their own acting

What Readers Are Thinking

(Letters to be inserted in this column must bear name and address of the writer. The signature may be omitted, however, when the letter is printed if writer so requests.)

LET OLD GLORY WAVE

Why is it that our community, which claims to be of American citizens, does not display the American flag on any of the legal holidays throughout the year? It cannot be the cost, for flags are from a few cents up in price.

On this thickly populated block where I live, there are only five or six flags out on days named by the nation on which to display the colors.

And the very people who do not fly a flag will display a political picture in their front windows Why display our politics?

Is it because these pictures are given away free of charge? Then let us be generous and give some flags and see if they will display them in their windows.

MRS. F. HOWARD.

SOUTHTOWN'S TWO FORCES AND BALANCE

Two forces constantly pull against each other. This is true in the material world as in the world of men. One pulls toward the center—the other away from the center. The first is called centripetal force; the second is called centrifugal.

What has this to do with you and me?

It has just this: All ordered motion in the material world depends upon proper balance between the two. Without this balance, modern machines, the growth of the last hundred years, would be impossible. Without this balance our own great democracy, the growth of the last hundred years, would be impossible. We could have no United States of America.

Suppose we leave this world of machines entirely and for just a little while confine ourselves to the world of men, combinations of men into nations, into states, counties, and townships; into cities and neighborhoods; into clubs and churches. If these groups are to progress, there must be a free play of the two forces, one pulling out from the center and the other toward the center.

I ask you, the reader, to translate all this into terms of our own Southtown, a combination of several neighborhoods each with ambitions of its own. Is it not clear, if our statements above are correct, and I challenge any person to disprove them, that Southtown will progress to the extent that there is free play of these two pulling forces, one out—the other in? Is it not clear that if one neighborhood of Southtow should get so strong that it could pull off from the group as a whole there must be a loss not only to the group as a whole, but to this separating group as well? Is it not equally clear that if Southtown should become strong enough to cause these different groups—Chicago Lawn, Marquette Manor, Auburn Park, Beverly Hills—to lose their individualities there must be a loss?

Now a balance such as I am talking of is not easily kept, for the very essence of the proposition is a free play of the two forces. This freedom can only be kept if somebody looks after the proper adjustment of the balance just as engineers look after a similar balance in the machine world. The institution doing the job in Southtown should be the neighborhood paper. Its business is to keep this balance which I have been arguing for. On one hand it must conserve the initiative of each of the Southtown neighborhoods; on the other hand it must encourage the union of all these neighborhoods into one Southtown organization.

HOLD DRIVER OF DEATH CAR TO GRAND JURY

Following the hearing of testimony by witnesses that they smelled liquor on the breath of William Russ, 11439 Eggleston ave., on October 5, after his car had struck and killed Mrs. Harriet McKeever, 1044 W. 69th st., at 69th st. and Western ave., a coroner's jury held Russ to the grand jury charged with manslaughter at the inquest held for the dead woman at the Englewood police station Thursday.

Deputy Coroner Charles J. Detrick conducted the inquest.

MC DONNELL IS NOMINATED FOR KIWANIS HEAD

Addison G. Proctor Tells of Personal Experiences With Lincoln

William McDonnell headed the list of nominees for offices of the Englewood Kiwanis club in the report made at Tuesday's meeting by Thomas E Reynolds, chairman of the nominating committee. Wendell Williams was named for the vice presidency and Henry F. Jaeger was nominated for treasurer.

The seven directors named by the committee were as follows: Harry M. Englestein, Homer G. Sailor, Thomas F. Whitehead, Benjamin Bassford, William Wanzer, Robert Barbee, and Erwin Penhallegon. The election will be held at the meeting of November 18.

Addison G Proctor, a delegate from Kansas to the nominating convention in 1860 at which President Lincoln was chosen as a candidate, was a guest at the meeting and spoke in the absence of Anthony Czarnecki, secretary of the Board of Election commissioners, the scheduled speaker.

Proctor Active at 86

Personal incidents in the life of Lincoln were told by Mr. Proctor, who, in spite of his 86 years is still active and a member of the Kiwanis club at St Joe, Mich.

One story retold by Mr. Proctor in sprightly dialogue style showed that no influence could swerve Lincoln from the path that he believed right. It seems that at the time of the Civil war one of the generals in command of the army in Oklahoma where the Cherokee Indians had over 240,000 head of cattle had been allowing a private contractor to collect $1,000 a day for supplying the soldiers with meat while he received the beef free from the great herds that roamed the plains. His dishonesty was learned and on the orders of the President he was dismissed from the service. The general was extremely popular with the leading Republicans of the state and they attempted to have him reinstated. Petitions were signed by all the members of the state senate and legislature and the governor asking that the general be taken back in the service.

Ignores Petitions

Mr. Proctor was present when these petitions were presented to Lincoln by Congressman Wilder. The President refused to look at them.

"I have investigated the charges thoroughly and I have made my decision," Lincoln stated. "It is not a question of his popularity or courage but whether or not he was dishonest. I believe that he was."

Congressman Wilder was taken aback at Lincoln's attitude and he asked, "What can I tell the signers of the petitions who are all your friends?"

"Tell them that they can't afford to ask me to do this," said the President and the interview was closed.

ALLEGRETTI BACK AT GRAND CROSSING

Judge Francis B. Allegretti was reassigned to the Grand Crossing branch of the municipal court Thursday, replacing Judge Joseph S. LaBuy, who returned to the jury branch.

VOTE NOVEMBER 4

OGDEN PARK TO HOLD ELECTION OF ITS OWN FOR YOUNG AND OLD

PATRONS TO BE GIVEN CHANCE TO EXPRESS PREFERENCES IN SPORTS

The kiddies are not to be left out of the balloting on next Tuesday, if the Ogden Park authorities have their way. Plans have been made to take care of anyone, whether adult or child, or man or woman, who cares to record his preferences in sports and other park activities. This election day "referendum" is for the purpose of more thoroughly acquainting the park officials with the likes and dislikes of patrons.

Those voting also will be entitled to indicate unofficially their choice for president. The result of this balloting, of course, will cut no figure in the national election, but it should furnish an interesting sidelight or two.

The Ogden Park "polls" will be open until 9 o'clock in the evening, affording school children plenty of time to vote after school.

It was Ogden Park that made a survey last summer for the national board of recreation, 9,000 patrons of the park registering in five days. It is hoped by Daniel Russell, director, that as good a showing proportionately will be made next Tuesday.

IS MOST SYMMETRICAL COTTONWOOD

Historic tree on Y. M. C. A. building site, which is said to be 100 years old. —Economist Photo

One old settler in Englewood has been assured immunity from disturbance by the march of progress. The tree that has grown for a century on the northwest corner of 66th st and Union ave. will not be uprooted when the new Y. M. C. A. building is erected on that site, but steps are being taken to insure its preservation for shading "Y" dormitory windows and beautifying the grounds.

Residents of the neighborhood have battled for years against its threatened destruction from mischievous boys' axes and hatchets and so grateful that the tall cottonwood will be spared for a landmark of unusual beauty.

Generations of families recall it as their community center. The tree was their children's playground and a model for drawings of Kershaw kindergarten classes.

Recent years have been hard for the old tree. Small lads have hacked the base and flames from their matches have gnawed at its heart, but the cottonwood has continued to live. Albert B. Fulton of Beverly Hills, a member of the Englewood department committee of management of the Y. M. C. A., was one of the foremost agitators for the tree's preservation.

Finest Cottonwood in Country

Consultation with forestry experts revealed it as one of the finest examples of its type in existence around Chicago, and unusually symmetrical. J. P. Nellis, 6 North Michigan ave., reported proper care at this time would enable the tree to live another century. One cottonwood as fine is to be found at Elmhurst, another is in the state of New York.

Treatment will consist of cleaning from the cavity charred wood or other detrimental substances, preservation of the stump, its reinforcement, and the filling of the hole with cement. The tree requires trimming and bracing.

It was a healthy stripling when Chicago's population numbered but fifty families and was thriving while Englewood was pasture and prairie, if the tree experts accurately estimate its age.

"I didn't know it was as old as the foresters claim," said Mrs. Joseph C. Opel, a pioneer resident who moved from Union ave. last month after thirty-six years spent on the street. "The tree appeared young when we came to Englewood but grew fast and the spikes hammered into it by the boys and others have been enfolded in the bark long ago."

Other homes began to dot the Jewett subdivision after the Opel family built their cottage on Union ave. in 1888, when their nearest neighbor was located at 65th and Union ave., the Stanger home. That was when the nearest street car for the loop was at 63rd and State sts.

Theatricals in Branches

Newcomers centered their play for hours around the cottonwood. The young men played ball on the lot where it grows and the older people used the pasture for their recreation grounds.

"I've had many a fight over that cottonwood," said Mrs. Josephine Fortaw, 6558 Union ave. "Careless boys seem bent on destroying it lately. It doesn't mean to them what it did to the old set."

Modern children have movie shows to amuse them. The "old set" held its theatricals in the cottonwood on a perilous platform, the boards of which were raised up by hand or hoisted to the limbs on knotted ropes. Hurdy-gurdy men had active competition from a group of amateur musicians who serenaded the neighborhood with mouth organ choruses played in the tree top.

Children no longer scale the big trees' heights on iron spikes but it exists as a source of interest in the community. Classes in botany at the Chicago Normal college expect to make a study of the tree in its present state before the "surgeons" fill the cavity. The hole in the trunk makes observation of the cottonwood's structure particularly easy.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE OBSERVED AT PARK BY ENGLEWOOD VETERANS

LEGION POST TO HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS ON NOVEMBER 7

Armistice day exercises at Ogden park will this year be under the auspices of Englewood post No. 61 of the American Legion, which, because of the extra activity, will not hold its customary Armistice dance.

At 10:30 o'clock in the morning, a firing squad will go on duty in "no man's land," which in this case will be Ogden park.

Action on the improvised "front" will cease promptly at 11 minutes past 11 o'clock and the Stars and Stripes will be raised on the park staff immediately following sounding of "recall."

Englewood boy scout troop No. 604, which is a special charge of the Legion post, will assist the Legionaires, and the post committee in charge is out to enroll the R. O. T. C. and possibly the national guard.

In the evening at the Ogden park fieldhouse, the post will again assemble for color presentation and a fitting program will be carried out. Moving pictures of United States troops in action will be shown.

On Armistice Sunday, the Pilgrim Congregational church will be host to the post with a special service.

To make up for the abandonment of the annual Armistice day dance, a Washington's birthday banquet and dance will be held at the Englewood business college auditorium on the night of February 21, with music by O'Leary's Novelty orchestra. Herbert Kester heads the banquet committee.

The annual election of Englewood post will be held at the post's hall in the Englewood Business College building, 735 Englewood ave., on November 7. The balloting will follow obligation of a class of fifteen applicants for membership.

Under the post's constitution, no commander can succeed himself. A committee asked for an amendment to this ruling, but was overruled by Commander Wall, whose administration, though brief, has been popular enough that many would like to see him in command again in 1925 and started a movement toward that goal.

At present Englewood post is being swamped with membership applications, although this is generally the "off season" for initiatory work.

The boy scout troop under the post's wing is reported progressing rapidly in both growth and proficiency under the direction of Senior Vice-Commander Herbert Kester and a troop committee of Legionaires, which includes Walter E. Troesch, post chaplain and a former scout executive; Dr. S. Wall, a member of the scout council; Charles Edington, of the Business Men's council, and Carl Klaesi, post adjustant.

AGED MAN HANGS SELF; DESPONDENT

By hanging himself with a piece of rope from a hook in the closet of his home, Patrick Dwyer, 64 years old, 5601 Sangamon st., committed suicide Wednesday. His body was found by a son, George.

Despondency was believed by the coroner's jury to have led him to end his life.

PANTHERS MEET ELKS IN SEMI-FINAL GAME

The Pullman-Roseland Panthers Football club and the crack Evanston Elks meet next Sunday at 115th and Halsted sts., in a semi-final game for the Midwest Football league championship. These two teams are great rivals and have a large following who will be on hand to see their favorites perform. The Pullman-Roseland Panthers are coached by Joe Sternaman of the Chicago Bears, while the Evanston team is coached by Paddy Driscoll of the Chicago Cardinals.

CHARLES ISAACSON TO SPEAK AT HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

LOVING CUP FOR EXCELLENCY IN GIRLS' ATHLETICS TO BE PRESENTED THURSDAY

Thursday noon's assembly for the three upper classes at Englewood high school will be of unusual interest to students interested in both music and athletics. Charles D. Isaacson of the Chicago Civic Opera company will be the speaker, while the school orchestra and glee club will take part in the program.

At the same convocation Mrs. A. H. Baker, 5651 Peoria st., will present to the school a loving cup for excellency in girls' athletics. Twice each year, beginning in February, 1925, the cup will be awarded to the class holding the highest number of points during the past year's work. Of course, only one semester's records can be considered in making next February's award.

Competition is to be carried on between the six groups of the three upper classes, dividing them according to the time of their graduation, February or June. Miss May K. Froom, Miss Agnes J. Fletcher, Miss F. Marie O'Leary and Miss Margaret A. Hayes are the girls' gymnasium instructors.

The first contest for points in the race for the cup will be the swimming meet which opens Thursday at 2:45 o'clock. Volley ball games will begin the following week, teams playing under the south park rules. Sixty girls, divided into teams, will play for the class championship. Teams to compete for points in the [illegible] contest will be elected by these [illegible] players.

Points in five sports each year will count towards winning the cup. The award for the championship team will be twenty points, for the second team ten points, and for the third, five. Playing round robin style, each team will have an opportunity to meet every other team. Besides swimming and volley ball the five sports will include captain ball, basket ball, and either baseball, track and field work, or hockey.

The freshman class assembly was held this morning, Wednesday. An orchestra selection and the school's rally song by the entire group opened the program. Flossie Mayer gave a reading; Ilona Gaskell and Irene Leighton, a group of songs; Beatrice Carlisle and Alice Binney, accompanied by Miriam Rausseau, a Spanish dance. The Englewood song concluded the hour.

PASTOR MARRIES MANY COUPLES THIS MONTH

October rivals June as a month for weddings, according to the record of the Rev. G. Schuessler, 336 W. 64th st., pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Our Redeemer, who married fourteen couples so far this month.

Three of that number were wed October 11. They were Arthur Vanselow and Miss Virginia Repp, Alden B. Carr and Miss Venita Von Geyso, and Normal R. Pearson and Elsie Dumke.

Couples whose marriage ceremony he performed October 22 were LeRoy A. Tucker and Miss Martha Behrendt, Robert R. Cowie, jr., and Miss Helen Harmening, and Leo E. Jensen and Agnes A. Rippstein.

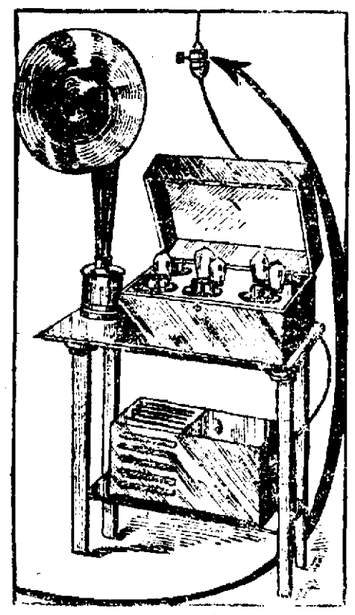
DYNERGY

The 5-Tube Set That Needs No Batteries

Simply Attach to Any Electric Light Socket



In entirely eliminating all batteries the DYNERGY RECEIVER fundamentally and radically differs from all other radio apparatus now before the public.

The Dynergy Receiver has no parts which need replacement or which wear out. Once installed, it is guaranteed for years, and truly expresses the phrase "First cost, last cost." It is fool-proof, compact, practically without heat, and its price can easily compare with other receivers now on the market. In quality it is incomparable. Its electrical efficiency is such that when operated constantly, the cost is less than ½-cent per hour. The replacement cost to keep the Receiver functioning is limited only to vacuum and rectifier tubes which with ordinary use should last from one and one-half to two years. Remarkable also is the fact that not only is there an eradication of all hums and noises, but there is also the eradication of tube noises and the disagreeable battery crackles.

PALMER PARK BRANCH OF B. L. A. GETS GOOD START; MANY ATTEND

FIRST AND THIRD FRIDAYS ARE MEETING NIGHTS; PLAN OTHER BRANCHES

Over 200 radio enthusiasts attended the organization meeting of the new Palmer park branch of the Broadcast Listeners' association on Friday of last week. Forty-two formally became members and there were indications that the branch will soon rival the parent body.

The first and third Fridays of each month were chosen as the new organization's meeting nights.

The same grade of technical advice and the same brand of entertainment by radio artists will be meted out to the Palmer park members as the members of the Hamilton park club enjoy. The latter's technical board and research and experimental department will always be available to both bodies.

Another branch is to be organized soon in the Wilson ave. district and a little later it is probable that a central club will be established in the loop. The latter would be the headquarters of the entire organization. Members of each branch will be privileged to attend the meetings at headquarters or any branch at any time.

Last Week's Meeting

Last week's meeting of the Hamilton park club was featured by a demonstration of a neutrodyne set by William H. Nolan of the R. E. Thompson company of New York. M. H. Romberg of the University of Chicago conducted his usual class on low-loss reception.

The Original Harmony Girls—Grace Ingram and Edith Carpenter—entertained, as did Miss Sarah Ann McCabe, soprano of St. Patrick's church for several years, who was accompanied in her classical and semi-classical numbers by Miss Isadora Plunkett. J. C. Drury favored with selections on the flageolet and presented readings from James Whitcomb Riley, together with some of his own compositions. John Smith, with his concertina, also was popular.

This Week's Bill

On the entertainment side of this week's bill, scheduled for tonight, Wednesday, at the Hamilton Park Field house, will be the Chicago staff band of the Salvation Army, Ray Hibbeler and his trio, Walter Peterson, Paramount record and WLS artist and the inventor of the unity rheostat; and other stars of the air. Sport Herman will tell about the radio show to be staged at the Coliseum in November, and Alderman Jacob M. Arvey, chairman of the mayor's radio commission, will talk on radio in general and the commission's work in particular. Herbert H. Frost, nationally recognized radio authority, is to discuss an interesting technical subject and Mr. Romberg will be present to help students of low-loss reception.

NEW WAVE BANDS ARE RESULT OF BIG MEET

The third radio conference held at Washington recently was the greatest assemblage of radio leaders in the brief history of the industry. It resulted in the following important steps:

1. It opposed the withdrawal of limitations on high power stations.
2. It created new wave band channels to include from 200 to 545 meters.
3. It recommended that the department of commerce leave its hands off programs as it does at present. This to avoid censorship.
4. It abolished the 300 meter wave length from sea use because of its interference with broadcasting. The 600 meter length will be used only for distress signals.
5. It recommended that interconnection be encouraged as the most important development of the past eighteen months.
6. It recommended that station classifications be changed from class A and B to class 1 and 2, etc.
7. It recommended that class C stations not be abolished but new wave lengths assigned them.
8. It is recommended that all high power experimental stations be placed under strict supervision.
9. It stated that between the hours of 7 and 11 in the evening no ship reports should be sent.
10. It asked that Congress appropriate more money for the use of the department in inspection work.

They say radio is in its infancy. Mebbe that accounts for the many wails and howls we hear every night.

If radio isn't in its infancy, a good many of the receiving set manipulators must be.

We're glad that there are no Chinese announcers on the air. If there were they'd probably be tongtied by now. (That's our queue to pick out an exit.)

Judging by what we hear over the radio, some of the best wets make the driest talks.

That's what might be termed a pair-o'-sox.

Oswald Coconino, Halsted street's Knight of the Garter, who, it is rumored, is not famed for the brilliance of his ideas, avers he's thinking of putting a sun dial on his set so he can work it in the dark.

Oswald's head is so anthracite that it would be just like him to think that tube sets were designed for use in the subway.

Somebody caught him out on the roof the other day trying to measure the length of a radio wave with a ruler.

He has been heard to say that he has a wonderful osculating circuit.

But there's always one "dumber." Frinstance, M. T. Dome said he wouldn't have a radio set in his house for fear it would set the place ablaze. Apparently, he had heard somebody talking about amplifiers and rectifiers.

Not all broad casts are in radio. Not long ago, we saw a cast in which every member weighed at least 200 pounds.

It isn't everybody that knows the wave bands we hear so much about these days are not U. S. marine bands.

Asked if he had a neutrodyne set, Artie Choke replied, "Nope I've had mine two years."

Some people are always afraid they're going to be stung when they buy "B" batteries.

In our opinion, a real low-loss set is one that leaves us with practically no deficit.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO KNOW?

The technical adviser of the Economist's radio department, Walter J. McDonnell, stands ready at all times to answer questions of readers. His advice will be found helpful if you are having trouble with your set or are planning to build one. He also will endeavor to answer queries on theory. A self-addressed, stamped envelope enclosed with your question will bring a prompt reply, either in these columns or by mail.

Contributions — articles, diagrams, photos, news items, etc. —are always welcome. If matter submitted is of general interest and space permits, it will be published with full credit to the contributor. Address the Radio Editor, 728-731 West 65th Street.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

By Walter McDonnell

Have a one-tube reflex. When it was new, it worked a loud speaker nicely but does not do so now. I am using a 201-A tube and just got three new dry cells for same but set does not work any better. I added another 45-volt "B" battery, but the results were little better. What do you advise? R. J. V.

Answer—Test your old "B" batteries, and see if they are all right. It appears that a dead "B" battery is hooked in the circuit.

When I tune in some outside stations I can't seem to hold them any length of time. They come in and fade out and come back in again without my touching the dials. What change in my set or aerial is necessary to prevent this? T. E. Cone.

Answer—"Fading" is a condition over which the listener-in has no control and believed to be due to atmospheric conditions. Many universities are experimenting to find ways and means to overcome this phenomena.

Told that his set needed a loop aerial, a friend of Tom Gibbons declared he couldn't afford to extend his wires downtown.

The Radio—long may she wave!

CONNECTING WIRES TO TUBE SOCKETS A TASK REQUIRING MUCH CARE

McDONNELL URGES DISCRIMINATION IN PURCHASE OF DOUBLE-CIRCUIT JACKS

By WALTER J. McDONNELL

In wiring your set there are certain rules to remember in regard to the connections of the filament wires to your tube sockets. Most sockets are marked as to negative and positive terminals, but, in case yours are not, the way to determine the polarity is to place the socket in front of you with the grid and plate terminals nearest you. The grid terminal will be on the right and the plate on the left. Then the terminal behind the grid terminal will be negative filament and the one behind the plate will be positive filament.

The above is for standard base sockets. For 199 sockets the grid and plate are diagonally across from each other. With the plate terminal on the right and near you the grid will be the left rear post. The negative filament will be the left front post and the positive will be the right rear post.

If the above is remembered when you are wiring your set, you will probably prevent hours of trouble-hunting and wondering why you don't get any sound out of your set, as the tubes will not oscillate if the battery is connected reversed.

Double circuit jacks are another trouble foundry, and care should be exercised in the purchase of this part of the set, as a jack made with poor springs will soon fail to properly close when the plug is taken out and the result will be an open circuit in the audio amplifiers.

In connecting up the audio transformers, use soldering terminals under the binding posts and never solder direct to the posts, as the manufacturer uses this method of fastening the wires from the coils of the transformer and, if the posts are heated in an attempt to solder the hook-up wire, the coil wires are apt to come off and ruin the transformer.

WMAQ WILL BROADCAST "Y" DRIVE RESULTS

Radio announcements on progress being made in five department Y. M. C. A. drives being carried on simultaneously this fall will be made from WMAQ beginning November 10. This is the first time the "Y" has given radio publicity to such work. The drives are for the erection of buildings in Roseland-Pullman, and South Chicago districts on the south side, in the Portage, Irving, and Jefferson Park region on the north side, for an addition to the Wilson ave. "Y," and for the building of a student hotel in the west side hospital district.

Kenneth F. Beers of the Englewood department is in charge of the Rose-Pullman campaign.

ANTI-RADIO STAND OF A. P. IS TO BE FOUGHT

Served with notice by the Associated Press that that powerful news gathering and distributing organization had forbidden all its members to broadcast election returns by radio, the Chicago Tribune has taken the stand that the welfare of the public warrants violatio of the order and therefore is going ahead with plans to send out from WGN, its own station, a complete election service on Tuesday of next week.

If the A. P. resorts to the courts, the Tribune will wage a test court nght.

SOVIETS JOIN RUSH FOR JOYS OF RADIO

The radio craze has at last struck Soviet Russia. That strange land only recently granted its citizens the right to own and operate receiving sets, for the payment of a small license fee and following a governmental inspection.

Prior to the new order, radio was practically unknown to the Russians, outside of officialdom. Even now, so widespread is ignorance of the broadcasting art that an information bureau opened by the government has been swamped with queries.

C. R. A. TO HOLD ITS GATHERINGS ON 1ST AND 3RD THURSDAYS

NEXT REGULAR SESSION SLATED FOR NOV. 6, BUT OFFICERS MEET THIS WEEK

The first and third Thursday evenings of each month are now the meeting nights of the Chicago Radio association, these evenings being chosen at a special session of the association at the home of W. J. Haferbecker, vice president, Wednesday of last week. The next meeting will be on November 6 at the Ogden Park Field house, no session being scheduled for Thursday of this week.

A meeting of the association officers is to be held this evening at the Morrison hotel to discuss matters of importance.

Co-operation with a newly organized radio club was voted during last week's special session.

At the last regular meeting, last Thursday, a program of entertainment and technical talks by persons prominent in radio was enjoyed.

NEW TYPE OF SET HAS NO NEED FOR BATTERY

The English with their four-element tubes that operate without "B" batteries have nothing on America, which can now boast of a receiving set, with standard tubes, that works without an "A" battery, a "B" battery, ground or antenna. This revolutionary receiver is the Dynergy.

The most unusual thing about this new set is the fact that it requires no batteries for either filament or plate voltage, deriving its power instead from the electric light system. A set of resistances changes the current to six volts for lighting the tubes, another resistance set changes it to ninety volts for the plate circuit, and a third set provides "C" battery voltage. Motor irregularities are evidently eliminated by a series of chokes and condensers that filter the current to a smooth flow. Compactness is another virtue of the Dynergy design.

TEACHERS NEED AID OF THE PARENTS IN MONOTONE CASES

By W. M. MASON

IS YOUR boy or girl a monotone? Or don't you know what a monotone is? The monotone is the person who sings the entire song on one tone. He has no harmonic sense and there is no such thing as musical pitch to him. In extreme cases, all tunes are the same to him. It is a common thing with children and seldom is there a room in school that you do not find one or more monotones.

These children are a worry and care to the teacher and every parent whose child is a monotone should give the teacher her fullest co-operation in the correction of the trouble if he wishes to save the child to music.

In nine cases out of ten the fault is a defective ear and only by patient and persistent work in the early years can the trouble be rectified. The teacher, no doubt, is doing her best. She has placed the child where personal attention can be given. She has placed about him the best singers in the room. All the devices for monotones are being used as time allows but the teacher cannot give the amount of time necessary to make the pupil sing. If left until the boy or girl gets into the upper grades or high school the case becomes hopeless.

The following music examination was given recently to candidates for principals in the Chicago public schools.

1 What are the characteristics of good singing that you would look for in inspecting your classes? What are monotones and how should they be treated?

2 What is the purpose of the song? What are folk songs and why used in the schools?

3 What plan would you use in developing breathing in the eighth grade in developing tone in developing rhythm?

4 What is meant by appreciation in music? Outline a plan for using the phonograph to develop appreciation in music in the upper grades.

The above is but a small part of what is required of every teacher in our grade schools for the successful teaching of music. She must understand children's voices. She must have a thorough knowledge of musical notation. A long list of suitable songs must be at her finger tips. Remember that she is not a specialist in music and have a more kindly feeling toward her.

ZAMPA ORCHESTRA GIVES PARK DANCE

Ethel G. Clark's Zampa orchestra gave a complimentary introductory dance Monday evening at the Hamilton park field house with friends of the musicians as guests. The entertainment was an invitation affair and was attended by about 125 people.

Each member of the five-piece orchestra is a Southtown resident, Mrs. Clark living at 7631 Wabash ave. She plays the saxophone. The group also includes the director, Lewis LaRochelle, violinist, Miss Lois Ingerson, pianist, Harold Mueller, banjo player, and Harry Shaw, drummer.

CHICAGO QUARTET SINGS AT GARY CHURCH SUNDAY

The Chicago quartet rendered the monthly musical program at the Gary Christian church Sunday evening, October 26. Members of the quartet are: Virginia Tidd Robinson, soprano, Blanche Boon, alto, Harry Conel tenor and H. H. Hornstein, bass.

WAS COMPOSER AT 11 YEARS

—Economist Photo

Dorothy Fleming, now 13, will play own marches at club meeting

Musicians are plentiful among members of the younger generation, but not many child composers are found.

Dorothy Fleming 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fleming, 2020 W. 102nd st., is an exception. Three completed musical works are already credited to her. Kent's March' written when she was 11 and named in honor of her instructor, Miss Jessie Kent, 6536 Harvard ave., won for her a prize of $5 in the Daily News contest last year. The competition was entered by 400 children while only twelve were given awards.

It is this work which Dorothy will play at the Englewood Woman's club program early in 1925 when represent tive local musicians appear. She has studied piano about six years and is enrolled at Vanderpool school. The Fleming family formerly lived at 38 W. Marquette rd.

Another young composer, Marian Bay, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hiram H. Bay, 6824 Normal blvd., will also appear on the Woman's club program. Marian, who has improvised at the piano since she was a tiny girl of 5, is working on a solo which she will perform at the club meeting.

The majority of her compositions are as yet unwritten, simply remaining in Marian's memory while she spends her study hours in learning the technique and harmony of music. She is now 10 years old and a pupil in the sixth grade at Parker school. Her teacher, Miss Meda Zarbell, will supervise and criticise the new melody before approving of its public presentation.

Marian is interested in public school music, plays the ukulele and expects later to take up the study of violin. At present she is concentrating her attention on piano technique, practicing scales and arpeggios like every ambitious musician.

The New Edison Phonograph

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

The marvelous realism of the New Edison caused the New York Globe to refer to it as the "Phonograph With a Soul," and the New York Tribune to announce that "Edison Snares the Soul of Music." For your protection in considering phonographs, may we suggest that you make mental note of the following fact:

The New Edison is the only phonograph that has ever dared the test of direct comparison with living artists.

Furthermore, we urge you to hear the New Edison in side-by-side comparison with any other phonograph before you decide to purchase.

Don't be sold merely by the printed word or the carefully prepared arguments of salesmen. You—a music lover—are entitled to make the final decision. You want the phonograph which you know by actual comparison to be the best.

ENGLEWOOD BAPTIST TEAMS REPORT DRIVE FOR COMMUNITY HOUSE

FRED GROW ANNOUNCES SPECIAL GIFTS OF $21,000; WEEK-END PLEDGES LARGE

Banners were presented Monday night to groups reporting the largest donations to the $100,000 fund that is being raised for the building of the new Englewood Baptist church community home to be located adjoining the edifice at 6248 Stewart ave.

Pledges totaling $19,112 have been obtained since Friday, when the drive opened, to Monday night, Fred A. Grow announced at the dinner Friday evening gifts amounting to $21,000 were obtained within a few days by the special gifts committee, of which he is chairman.

Nightly suppers are being held at the church. The first took place Friday evening and was attended by the executive committee and 150 other workers. The campaign will be concluded November 3 with a celebration dinner.

Pennants will be awarded each night to the division and team with the highest report. They were given Monday to C. D. Eulette, commander of Division "C," and to Harold Tuttle, high team winner. Each division consists of seven teams. There are seven workers on every team.

Orlo O. Montague, general chairman, is assisted by an executive committee composed of John R. Gray, Fred A. Grow, J. P. Reeves, D. Roy Kendall, Mrs. J. W. Bastable, O. V. Van Camp, W. A. Burnet, and C. D. Eulette.

Captains of the twenty-one teams and others who will direct the solicitations are Elmer Hole, Dr. C. W. Hillier, D. A. Bickford, John Boerema, J. H. Brandenburg, W. G. Brimson, Wilbur F. Budd, George Busch, Leo W. Cade, Mrs. H. W. Clayton, Harold Cuttle, Mrs. Norman De Clue, Marshall J. Fox, Mrs. Fred A. Grow, Mrs. Eleanora Hamilton, George Harcus, Arthur Johnson, M. S. Lamoreaux, William J. Murphy, Edgar F. Olson, R. A. Sherwood, Raymond Spoerri, and Mrs. J. S. Stephens.

Property 88x129 feet has been purchased by the church, which already has raised $60,000 toward the costs of the community buildings.

Plans for the structure include rooms for the graded church school classes, for clubs and recreational activities for members of all ages, lockers and showers, also for social and administrative gatherings. Nearly all the rooms will be available for several purposes. The house will be open to boys and girls and men and women of the community. Its construction will be started early next spring.

CEMETERY DEDICATION BY MASONS WITNESSED BY THRONG OF 25,000

NEW $660,000 SOUTHTOWN BURIAL GROUND OPENED WITH IMPRESSIVE EXERCISES

What was described by one of the participating officials as an event the like of which had never before been seen in the history of the world, took place in the vicinity of 125th and Halsted sts., last Sunday afternoon.

While 25,000 people looked on and 5,000 automobiles were parked nearby, Cedar Park cemetery, one of the two burial grounds in the world reserved exclusively for Masons and their families, was dedicated with impressive ceremonies.

An outstanding part of the program was the unveiling and dedication of a 250-foot high Masonic monument located on rising ground near the center of the great tract of land, which in one year was transformed at a cost of $660,000, into a beautifully landscaped park for the dead.

The monument consists mainly of a giant obelisk bearing at its top huge Masonic emblems. Near the foot of the shaft is the figure of a woman weeping over a broken column. So large is the ensemble, the cost of which was $35,000, that it can be seen for miles.

The cemetery, although it extends along Halsted st. for a mile and west to Racine ave., making a total area of more than 600 acres, is practically "sold out," a flood of lot purchases being made before and after the exercises of Sunday.

The program centered around an address by Arthur M. Millard, Grand Master Builder, Order of the Builders, but the actual dedication was in the hands of the Rev. R. Keene Ryan, Southtown minister, who is Grand Chaplain of the A. F. & A. M. for Illinois.

Following rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" by a band of forty-five pieces, invocation was delivered by the Rev. Thomas Newman Harrowell, pastor of the Roseland Episcopal church.

"Ode to the Flag" was the title placed upon a ceremony conducted by members of Square Post No. 232, American Legion.

A $250,000.00 MANUFACTURER'S STOCK

On Sale in the Old Phillips Furniture Store at 6308 S. Halsted St., Beginning Saturday, Nov. 1st

AT ACTUAL FACTORY PRICES TO YOU

Several prominent manufacturers co-operated in leasing the building in which the Phillips Furniture Store was located, for the purpose of disposing of their large surplus stocks. Among them are a manufacturer of men's overcoats, a large wholesaler and manufacturer of men's furnishings, a manufacturer of floor lamps and shades, a manufacturer of radio goods and novelties. The lull in business which has prevailed for many months caused the accumulation of heavy overstocks in the warehouses of these manufacturers and these overstocks must be sold at once regardless of cost or value.

This combination brings to the buying public of this part of Chicago a unique and unusual opportunity to effect substantial savings just at a time when the largest part of every family's yearly expenditure is made. No buyer who is out to get the most for his or her money will overlook this opportunity. Stocks, assortments and varieties will be continually replenished as those in the store are sold, as floor space does not permit displaying the entire $250,000.00 stock at one time.

The First Shot Out of the Gun Is a Sale of

OVERCOATS

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TO ENROLL IN RECREATION CLUBS

PUPILS' ORGANIZATIONS ARE EXPECTED TO STIMULATE BETTER CITIZENSHIP

Recreation clubs have been formed at Parker and Harper junior high schools as part of the regular curriculum prescribed for that class of educational institution.

Preparation for pupils' future social activities will be afforded by the organizations which are also expected to stimulate interest in wholesome and helpful arts and exercises.

Provision for the leisure hours of later life is another purpose of the clubs.

"We realize that after eight hours are spent in daily work, there exist sixteen more the individual has at his disposal. It will be a function of these proposed groups to inspire pupils to put those idle hours to pleasant and valuable use," Walter R. Hatfield, principal of Parker junior high school, explained.

Types of clubs organized are based on the preferences and particular needs of the students. Surveys are conducted to determine the nature of junior high school pupils' interests. Each child's choice was consulted.

Will Have Own Paper

Journalistic work is a prominent activity at Parker junior high school, which is to have its own paper in the near future. Miss Kathryn Steinmetz dean of girls, is active in the club work at that school.

Extra hours or more teachers to conduct clubs will be unnecessary under the present schedule which offers the recess period between 10:30 and 11 o'clock for the organization activities at Parker. Each instructor will have her part in the recreation classes, in accordance with the terms of her contract as a junior high school teacher.

Need for the clubs is urgent if only for their effect as an agency for encouraging better citizenship, Mr. Hatfield stated. "It is the idle hour when boys and girls get into mischief. Give them an interest they can cultivate, and you have given them a safeguard. The clubs they join now will teach them how to mingle in social life after school days are past. They will carry their present interests into later life.

"It is unfair to expect a man to be interested in concerts if he never learned to love music in his boyhood. There are hundreds to whom the better things of life are a sealed book because they never had an opportunity to follow their own bent in the cultivation of a recreational interest."

Clubs Self-Governing

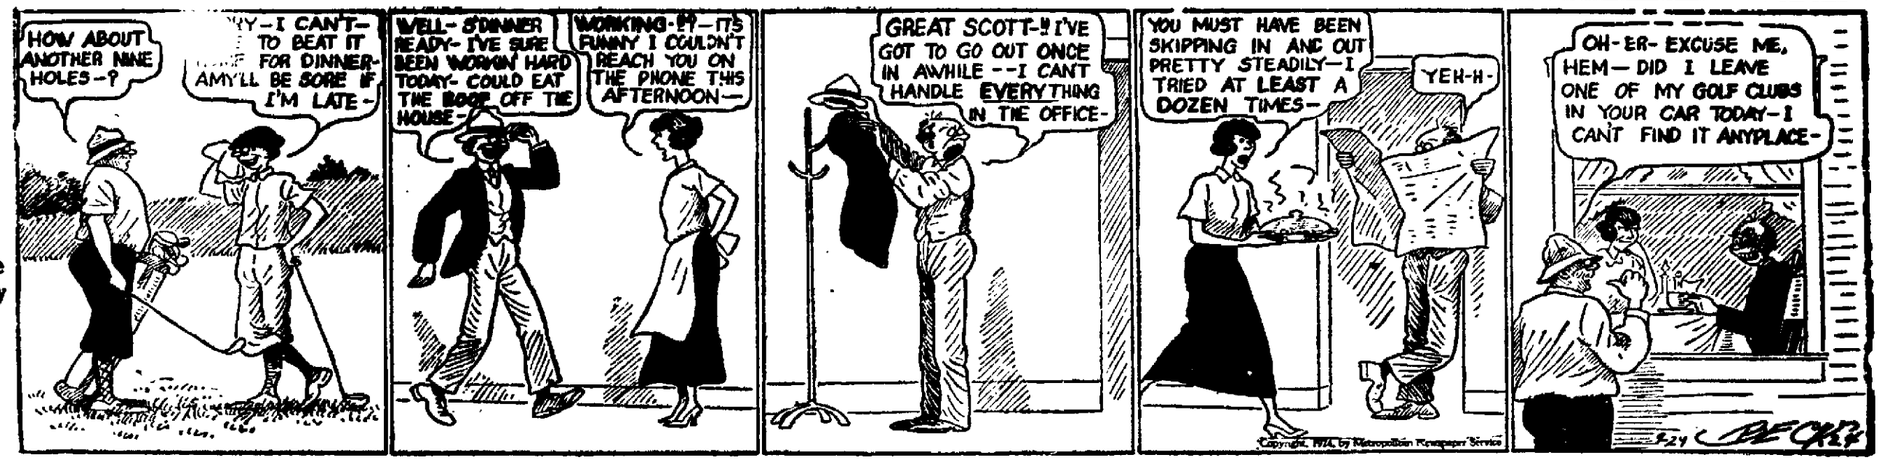
Teachers at Parker junior high school were consulted before the clubs were formed and each named the specific field in which she was skilled and interested. The project was explained to the 890 junior students of the school and the selections of clubs made by the instructors were adapted to those of the students.

Each division room now has a civics club. Students have organized a council of two representatives from each division room.

Teachers sponsor the clubs but each of the student organizations selects its own officers and is self-governing. Assistance is given to the clubs requiring it.

Clubs meet once a week on Wednesdays and Thursdays, with the exception of the civics club which holds its sessions Tuesdays. Today marks the third meeting of the organizations which consist of boys' glee, girls' glee, orchestra, pottery, metal etching, Camp Fire, Boy Scout, art needlework, senior booklovers', junior booklovers', camera and stamp collecting clubs, two chemistry, three dramatic, three millinery, and three radio clubs. A newspaper club is composed of two sections, printing and journalistic. Any child can belong to more than one club. The Lend-a-Hand club has been organized for charitable work and will be especially active during the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons.

Social hour is held Friday afternoons at the school. A Halloween party will take place there from 3 to 4 o'clock for the seventh grade pupils and from 4 to 5 o'clock for the eighth and ninth grade children Friday.



TALK ON BOYS FOR PARKER P. T. A. MEET

The Parent-Teacher association of the Parker practice and junior high schools has started the year with 500 members and at least 300 present on the opening day.

At the next meeting Wednesday, November 5, in the practice school gym, Robert Klees of the Union League for Boys will talk on a subject near to every mother's heart—her boys.

At 2:45 there will be refreshments and a social time, and the meeting will follow. The hostesses of the day are the chairmen of the primary department, Mrs. W. F. Wigger, Mrs. W. J. Braun, Mrs. F. T. Clifton, Mrs. George Staley, Mrs. John Butler, Mrs. George Rubridge, Mrs. W. F. Fobes, Mrs. F. Sellers, Mrs. E. E. Enos, Mrs. John Grogan, and Miss Ellen Olson and Miss Feeney of the teaching force. Members and friends are cordially invited.

"The best informed and most interested mother can not appreciate the varied activities that are being carried on by a wonderful corps of teachers in our schools today, especially the new junior high," said Mrs. E. W. Grover, 6929 Stewart ave., secretary of Parker P. T. A., "except by going to the school and getting acquainted with it, as the children cannot see the wide scope of the new movement in education. We want all mothers in the district at this coming meeting."

Y. P. C. E. BACKS TEAR UP MOLINE TIGERS LINE FOR 35-3 WIN

LOSERS REGISTER FIELD GOAL IN LAST TEN SECONDS OF PLAY

In a game featured by the teamwork of the Young People's Club of Englewood, the club team took the Moline Tigers into camp at Normal park Sunday by a 35 to 3 score. The fast charging Club backs were nothing like the backfield that played the Tokios the week before and the Moline line could not withstand their onslaughts.

With the second backfield in the game at the start, the Club team scored one touchdown during the first quarter when a series of line plays brought the ball to the four yard line. Larkin carried it over on a fake pass. Kosmala kicked for the extra point. At the start of the second quarter a new backfield, two new ends, a tackle and a new center went in for the Club. It did not take long for the steamroller to get started. Musick scored twice on long end runs. Hasan scored on a line buck. Clausen scored on a fake pass and S. Guberman scored, after receiving a twenty-yard pass and going fifty-five yards for a touchdown. Clausen scored all the extra points by drop kicks.

At the second half the original starters went back into the game and were instructed to play on the defense only. Throughout the entire second half the Club team were on the defense. They kicked the ball to the Tigers after holding them for downs after every kick. The Moline team rained pass after pass during the second half but the Club secondary defense was always on the alert. Hoffman played a stellar game at quarter for the Tigers. He scored a drop kick in the last ten seconds of play from the thirty yard line which was the nearest point to the Club goal line that the Tigers reached.

GARAGE FOR 200 CARS PLANNED FOR 64TH ST.

A two-hundred-car storage and service garage with dimensions of 175x187½ feet will be erected soon by Porter Bros., an Englewood garage firm, at the southwest corner of Wentworth ave. and 64th st.

The exact date work will start depends upon how soon title is cleared upon the two pieces of property for which Porter Bros. have practically closed, and also upon the weather. If all formalities as to title are concluded soon and the winter is mild, construction will be under way before spring, it was said Tuesday by Lee Porter.

The total cost of building and ground will be at least $125,000, according to the Porters, who have been in the garage business on Princeton ave., just north of 63rd st., since 1910.

The Wentworth and 64th corner being taken over by Porter Bros. was owned by the Mrs. Clara T. Bay estate, now in the hands of a number of children and grandchildren, headed by Attorney Henry Bay, 6153 Eggleston ave. Mrs. Clara T. Bay, who died less than a year ago, resided in the old residence on the corner for at least forty years.

Porter Bros., who include Lodo V., Lee W., and Ben W., intend to concentrate their entire business in the new building. The structures they now occupy will be rented.

ENGLEWOOD PUPILS IN RECITAL

Englewood pupils of the Anna Tomlinson School of Music were heard in a recital at Hamilton Park Field house Thursday evening. Esther Stenzel and Emily Lasker made their first appearance in public with piano numbers. Miss Isabel Wood and Miss Helen Pabst were also on the program.

Small children, who analyzed music at sight and sound, were featured. Others who played selections from the masters were Marjorie Skinner, Marie Allen, and Madeline Whitbeck of Berwyn.

BOY SCOUT TREASURE HUNT IS ARRANGED

Eight boys from each Boy Scout troop in the southwest district will take part in the "treasure hunt" to be held Saturday, November 15, at Camp Kiwanis. Four different trails may be followed in seeking the prize, which will be of such a nature that the whole troop will benefit by it.

While the representative teams are engaged in the hunt the other Scouts at the camp will take part in a "three degree initiation" admission into a secret honor society. No time will be spent on Scout technique, the week-end being devoted solely to entertainment and creation of a spirit of good feeling among the boys.

It Takes 40 Years to Build a Cemetery Chicago's Most Beautiful Cemetery

Mount Greenwood

Is 45 Years Old

No commissions on lot sales paid to any person.

Real perpetual care—an honest contract—care funds in trust company's hands.

A properly developed cemetery—not a paper cemetery. Seven and one-half miles of sewers and drains prevent any possibility of wet graves or overflowed lots; 4¼ miles of water pipe connecting with the Chicago water system. Every lot in the cemetery properly watered during the dry season.

Lot prices moderate. Should be investigated by everyone wishing to secure a cemetery lot. Such investigation may save the mistake of paying as much or more for an unfinished lot in an undeveloped cemetery as would secure a lot in beautiful Mount Greenwood.

ELECTION TUESDAY, NOV. 4TH

Honest, Faithful, Energetic

The time for voting for a man because he is a Republican or a Democrat is past in local politics. The good citizen today, votes for a man because that man has the qualifications for office.

And on that basis Thomas Byrne will be elected. His honest and energetic service to the people as alderman of the fifteenth ward has proven his ability and worth. He has truly been a man of the people—and the people's interests have been his interests.

He seeks election to the Sanitary District—not on what he will do—but rather on what he has done. And on this basis he is entitled to election.

Find his name on the ballot and put a cross after it. Vote for a man who has proven his worth, and not one who just promises.

PARK MANOR MAN TELLS OF CHICAGO AT TIME OF FIRE

WAS SAILING ON GREAT LAKES WHEN CATASTROPHE OCCURRED IN HOME CITY

A Chicagoan since the year before the great fire. Such is the record of Edward J. Slee, 123 E. 71st st. With his daughter, Mrs. George F. Gilbertson, Mr. Slee has lived in the neighborhood of his present home eighteen years, watching Park Manor grow from a swamp to a well-populated community. When his children were small and the family lived at 57th and Sangamon sts., he was fond of picnicking in the grove at 63rd st. and Prairie ave., not many blocks from his home of today.

Edward J. Slee

"My first sight of America was when our schooner put in at San Francisco in 1867," he told an inquiring Economist representative. "I had gone to sea when I was 15, and sailed all over the world before I finally settled down here. On board ship I held every job from 'boy' to first mate, but never was captain. I was even cook."

It was in 1870 that the young sailor decided to make Chicago his home. A letter from an older brother told of the latter's marriage in this city. The younger man decided to trust his fortunes in the new country, leaving his home in Liverpool, England. Two years later he sent for his parents and sisters, breaking all ties with the old home.

During his first years in Chicago, Mr. Slee sailed on the great lakes and the ocean, but was a crew member on only one steamboat. This was the William Tweed, named for the notorious New York politician. He was on Lake Michigan at the time of the Chicago fire.

"A great forest fire was raging in Michigan at the same time," he recalled. "The lake was so smoky it seemed as if there was a heavy fog. To avoid grounding, the captain gave orders to travel in circles, which we did for an entire day. Finally we went ashore in Chicago, docking after the fire had been practically extinguished, and found our friends patrolling their home neighborhoods with guns to prevent pilfering of their property."

After his marriage, Mr. Slee "settled down," working for a time at the stock yards and later as a painter, but sailing only once after that occasion. It was in his new occupation as painter that he met "Captain" James Hunt, 6622 Aberdeen st., another former sailor and sea captain. "Since then we've been great friends—never had a quarrel." Captain Hunt is 71 and his pal is 73 years of age.

Mr. Slee takes an active interest in life, and has watched with pride the growth of the city from 300,000 population to almost 3,000,000. Nor does he look on the past as the "good old days." The present is likewise good in his estimation.

"If the world is going to the dogs, it's going in a mighty nice way," is his opinion. His only complaint against present conditions is that living costs are too high.

Among his reminiscences is tells of using the present location of the Art institute as a bathing beach and of assisting in transporting women mourners across the ditch which ran along the Oakwoods cemetery entrance on Cottage Grove ave. Near his former home in Englewood was the "cabbage patch" between 59th and 57th, Halsted and Morgan sts.

SOUTH PARK POLICE SEEK SALARY BOOST

The South Park Commissioners were asked at their last meeting to boost the pay of the South Park police to the same level as that of the Chicago city police and the park police under the West and Lincoln Park boards.

The petition was referred to the south parks superintendent, despite a tendency on the part of Commissioner Michael Igoe to look with favor upon the officers' request. The board, in declining to take immediate action, explained that it was short of money.

Julius T. Fitzgerald, officeal in several bicycle and skating organizations and prominent A. A. U. figure, appealed to the board to build a "bike" track in the Grant Park stadium and arrange so the infield of the track could be flooded for ice-skating.

One of his arguments was that Chicago is almost certain to get all the national ice-skating championship events of the coming winter and needs a large rink for the meets.

He Made it Snappy

"It's no use," said the girl, explaining her ruined bob to her friends; "I tried to tell the barber the way I wanted it, but he cut me short."—Life.

A Real Chaperone

The Baptist people, under the espionage of Mrs. W. H. Brown, gave a very enjoyable fish fry on the beach Thursday evening.—From the society news of the Pensacola (Fla.) Journal.

Bowen's Victory Knocks Englewood Out of Lead

SOUTH CHICAGO TEAM UPSETS PURPLE, 7 TO 0

Heavy Line Forces Losers to Play Defensive Game

Englewood dropped from the lead in the south section of the prep race when Bowen handed the Purple pigskin warriors their first setback at St. Michael's field Saturday by a 7 to 0 score. Englewood's backs were unable to penetrate the heavy South Chicago line that has not had a touchdown registered against it this year, while Bowen counted on the completion of a pass

During the first half Englewood played a purely defensive game. Time and again Bowen neared the Purpel goal posts only to be stopped on downs but Englewood was never able to get out of danger for Bradley's punts were all short. Bowen's linemen kept crashing against their opponents' forward wall without any great success but Colin, in his desperate efforts to guard the goal, was knocked out and although he continued to play, his mind was in a daze

The touchdown was registered in the third quarter. From the thirty yard line Dowdey tossed a ten yard forward to Gerat, who sprinted unmolested to the goal Singer was nearby when Gerat received the toss but like many of the Englewood followers he claimed he had heard the whistle and failed to tackle the Bowen end. Kiser added the extra point.

An aerial attack was started shortly afterward by Englewood and by alternating the passes with line plunges, the Purple machine moved down the field from its own twenty yard line to Bowen's fifteen yard marker where the ball was lost on downs.

Verdell got off with a twenty-five yard gain with a forward in the only other chance had by Englewood but when two long passes to Singer went wild the ball was lost again.

JIM LOFTUS SCORES AS RESOLUTES, BLOSSOMS BATTLE TO 6-6 TIE

BOTH TEAMS FAIL TO COUNT ON FIELD GOALS NEAR END OF GAME

Jim Loftus' 30-yard run for a touchdown around left end gave the Resolutes a 6 to 6 tie in the game with Blossoms Sunday at 89th st. and Racine ave

The Blossoms scored in the second quarter. Off tackle drives and end runs brought the ball from mid-field o the Resolutes fifteen-yard line where one of the Blossom backs broke loose off left tackle and twisted his way over the goal line. The kick for the extra point was blocked

In the fourth quarter the Resolutes worked the ball to the Blossoms' thirty-yard line where Jim Loftus, after fumbling the pass from the center picked up the ball ran around the end to a touchdown. The kick after touchdown went wide of the goal posts

After the touchdown the Blossoms received the kickoff and started throwing passes one of which was blocked behind the scrimmage line and recovered by O'Donnell of the Resolutes. With only a minute to play a place kick from the thirty-yard line failed.

The Blossoms also failed trying for a field goal in the first quarter. Fumbles proved costly to both teams throughout the game In the second quarter Robson of the Resolutes got loose around right end but after running twenty-five yards dropped the ball and the Blossoms recovered on their 20-yard line In the yardage gained the teams were about equal

LUTHERAN CAGERS WANT PRACTICE TILTS

Light and heavyweight teams have been entered by the Augsburg Lutheran church in the Evangelical Basketball league for the first time. St Luke's lives, champions of the league last year have twice met defeat from the Augsburg and the locals are considered formidable contenders for the honors.

Until the start of the schedule Augsburg is looking for games for both teams and are willing to meet any protestant organization or church. Harry J. Lundgren 24 W. 71st st, Harry J Lundgren, 24 W. 71st st.

HYDE PARK SOCCER TEAM TIES PARKER

Hyde Park held Parker to a 1-1 tie Friday at Hamilton park before a large crowd of soccer fans. Parker had been picked to win and altho unable to gain a margin of victory over Hyde Park, the Green and White did have a slight edge in the play.

NIGHT SCHOOL STUDENTS TO HAVE FIELD DAY

Students of the Englewood Standard Evening school will hold a field day at Ogden Park Saturday afternoon and an extensive program of athletic events and races for both men and women students has been planned. Over twenty events have been carded by the committee in charge.

Scoring Trio of Soccer Team

These three lads have led the point gathering of the Parker booting eleven and kept it in the running for high school honors. Left to right, Cornelius Oker, center half, who is better known for his swimming prowess, Ollie Cartwright, right forward, and Earle Harris, right end.—Economist Photo

NEW RECORDS HUNG UP AGAIN IN BRUCK'S BOWLING LEAGUE

MINNERS, LEADING SULLIVAN MILKMEN, SETS NEW MARKS

Season's records went by the boards again in Bruck's league last week when five new marks were hung up during the most terrific bombardment the pins have received thus far. A new individual high game record was set by John Minners of the Sullivan Milk company club when he shot 278 in his middle game, pushing aside the 268 mark of Wiesner's Minners also boosted the three game total to 739 when he turned in 237 and 224 for his other two games, displacing the 686 made by Doc Maas last week. Ed. Sternquist of the W. C. Bootery team also beat the Doctor's three game total when he counted 716 which is good for second high. The three game team total was raised twice during the evening, once by the Birk's Beverage, who rolled 3040 and again by Minners' team-mates, the Sullivan Milk company, who totalled 3045 with games of 956, 1061 and 1028. The John M. Lees were unlucky enough to be opposed to the dairy men and lost all three games although they turned in their best series to date including a middle game of 990. Minners was assisted by Miner with 618, Blackwell with 568 and Cramsie's 563. Durkin shot 590 for the losers and Wixted totalled 555.

While the Birk's Beverage were shooting their big total of 3040, the Englewodo Cleaners were being whitewashed. Phil Wolf boosted his already high average with a 664 count, including 234 which pulled down the prize money. Tommy Reynolds had a good night and hung up 627, while his mate, Wiesner, collected 614. Krieth shot 578. Henning was best of the losers with 571 and Doc Maas totalled 563.

HOCKEY AND TENNIS POPULAR WITH GIRLS

Freshman athletics for girls of Englewood high school are centering on a tennis tournament and hockey game. Members of the first year class are not due in school until 10:15 o'clock, so their gymnasium and games classes meet early in the mornings.

Every Tuesday and Thursday morning at 9 o'clock Miss F. Marie O'Leary supervises contests in the tennis tournament at the Ogden Park courts, Marquette rd. and Racine ave. The round robin meet probably will be continued until winter before being completed.

Much interest is being shown in the hockey games, two complete teams having been formed already. These meet at Washington Park Friday morning from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

TILDEN NOTCHES THIRD STRAIGHT SOCCER WIN

Tilden's soccer team won its third straight victory last Friday by overwhelming Lenger, 7-0, at Pullman park, Fenger was outclassed from start to finish The Pullmanites had but one chance to score and that was on a penalty kick Veilch knocked down the ball and White booted it out of danger.

Tilden's goals were made by Patterson who booted three and Kreutz, Davis Markley, and Harrison who made one apiece

The fourth game of the schedule will be played against Harrison at Douglas park, Friday This will be a hard fought game as it probably will mean the section championship.

PENALTIES KEEP HARRISON FROM BEATING TILDEN

Twice Off Side Play Robs West Siders of Touchdown

Penalties robbed Harrison of a win from Tilden at Harrison Saturday. Three times Harrison's warriors carried the ball over the Techs goal line but twice they were called back for off side play and the west siders were forced to content themselves with a 6 to 6 tie.

The first of Harrison's mistakes occurred in the first quarter and Coach Dougherty's boys repeated the performance in the second session.

Sullivan made the only touchdown that counted just before the end of the half when he returned a punt from midfield. Tilden tied the count in the last quarter. The Techs piled through Harrison's forward wall time and again until they reached the ten yard marker. From this point Lutz tossed a short forward to Urbick behind the line Lutz failed in the try for goal as had Capt. Hruby in attempting to register the extra point for Harrison.

The spectators were thrilled by the lengthy runs of Sullivan, who made more than half the ground gained by Harrison with his twists through the line.

OGDEN PARK THIRD IN CITY TOURNAMENT FOR FEMININE VOLLEYISTS

BOYS' SOCCER TEAM SURVIVES OPENING ROUNDS OF SOUTH PARK MEET

Third place in the senior girls' division of the city-wide playground councils volley ball tournament at Douglas Park last Saturday, went to Ogden Park.

The Ogden Park 125-pound soccer team survived the opening rounds of the South Park soccer tournament on the same day by defeating McKinley Park, 6-0. The contest confirmed the conviction of admirers that the Ogden lineup boasts several stars who should make it interesting for the championship contenders in the South Park league this fall.

Altgeld and Copernicus at present are the outstanding teams in the Ogden Park Grammar School Soccer league. Altgeld advanced last week by trimming Kershaw, 1 to 0, and Copernicus moved up by downing Raster, 2 to 1.

Frank Orr and Harry Tackie represented Ogden Park in the amateur bicycle races at the Coliseum last Saturday.

HARRISON SHUTS OUT PURPLE, 2-0, IN SOCCER

Harrison improved its standing in the south section soccer race at Hamilton park Friday by shutting out Englewood, 2 to 0. The Purple played an aggressive game but weakness of the fullbacks handicaped defensive play. Redman counted the first point for the west siders in the first half on a corner kick while King booted the ball through from the goal area in the closing session

The Job of Being A Dad

By FRANK H. CHELEY
President Futher and Son League of America

FATHER, SON AND THE OUT-OF-DOORS

It is a startling fact, explain it as you please, that Mr. Average Father, without scarcely being conscious of it himself, has allowed to completely slip away from him all participation in practically all of the outdoor activity of his son. Such a situation borders almost upon a calamity and in the "slipping process," oddly enough, Dad has become the greatest loser, for the boy, natural child of the out-of-doors, driven by an irresistible race heritage to roam in the open, has, in spite of every obstacle of superficial life, gone on as he has always done, indulging to the very best of his ability his longing for the big open places and for the care-free, simple life of the vagabond. The pity is that he had to go alone. For, while every growing boy has an instinctive contact with Old Dame Nature in all of her moods probably quite as much as he needs the out-of-doors with its myriads of contacts with tiny wild folk and green growing things, the boy needs an interpreter, a guide, a fellow saunterer, as it were, and of all humans the one individual that comes nearest to filling such a bill to a real boy is a real Dad The facts are that every boy needs more out-of-doors, but to make the out-of-doors effective in his life, he needs a Dad to go along with him and share it.

Beyond any question of a doubt one of the outstanding reasons why the modern father knows so little about the modern boy and completely misunderstands his desires, his moods and his secret longings, is because the modern father does not find it so convenient as of old to pal with his son out-of-doors If there were more fishing and hunting trips together; if there were a few more Saturday afternoons spent in little hikes and journeys afield; if there were a few more evenings spent in congenial comradeship by fathers and sons about an open campfire in some neighboring wood, where a simple meal might be prepared together, there would be many less cases of mutual suspicion and distrust and final delinquency. The out-of-doors offers the fundamental basis for a better father and son relationship It is free to all

There is no one thing so needed between fathers and sons today as true fellowship and understanding, and there is no one experience of life that is so conducive to just this fellowship as is intimate companionship in the out-of-doors. If half the time spent on the golf links with a party of "old boys" were spent in the nearby woods and fields with a gang of "young boys," it would be more satisfactory to all parties concerned. Such experiences are invariably a revelation to fathers and never fail to be an inspiration to a boy. If this be a true statement, as I believe it to be, then why not much more of it?

Fathers need just such activity to keep them young and hopeful and optimistic of the future; and son needs such experiences—much more of them than he gets—to save him from becoming passe and superficial and old before his time There are many thoughtful fathers of growing sons that are secretly worried over the fact that they are rapidly losing their youth, becoming disillusioned and cold and unresponsive to the call of spontaneous play, and yet at the same time cannot bring themselves to continually being a mere "kid with the kids" Such fathers need to discover the tremendous possibilities that the big out-of-doors, with its endless opportunities for hiking and camping simple woodcraft and nature knowledge, offers to them and their sons. It offers exactly what both parties need so badly. Try it and find out.

Out of the Rough

By Fred S Clisbee

PRESSING

Pressing is feared most by the good player because he knows it breeds tenseness of the muscles which cramp the swing He is continually on the watch for this and when it creps up he very wisely slows down as it destroys the effect of the best planned shot.

The average player has this fault, only in a greater degree but he keeps it instead of getting rid of it. This is due to a great extent to his lack of knowledge as to when he is pressing and how to prevent it

His pressing has become a fixed habit, more or less, and the muscles becoming tense during a part or the whole of the stroke seems perfectly natural The tenseness, or tightening up of the muscles, retards the club from swinging with any speed and reverts the swing into a push which has no follow through He observes this and feels there was not enough effort put in the stroke, so he goes at it hearder on his next shot, only the results get worse instead of better His cure comes from exhaustion more than anything else and when his energy is expended he gets some presentable shots.

This system is all right, but it adds up a pretty big score

The better plan is to control this pressure right at the start and it is safe to say that you have this fault if you are getting many bad shots. Try to develop a smooth, deliberate, even swing rather than a quick jerky up swing and a forceful hammering hit to the ball. In practicing this, strive to keep the up swing and the down swing at an even speed until you become accustomed to the action of the muscles. In doing this you are not only able to tell how they act during all parts of the swing but just where your tenseness comes in. When this is known you have a good chance of correcting it

A good point to have in mind is that the body has no place in helping you speed up the club on the down swing to the ball See that it keeps its place, which is closely connected to the swinging arms, but not leading. I would describe it as mildly backing the swing up.

LEO CLUB PIN TEAM BEATS MADONNA K. C.

The Leo Club bowling team composed of P. J. Lynch J. Duffy, A. J. Joyce, V Callaghan and L Doherty defeated the team from Madonna Council K of C last week. Leo club took all of the Madonna hope in the second game when it rolled 1020 pins. A match game has been scheduled for the team with the Oval Social club five Competition is keen in the Leo league with the Foley battery quintet on top and the Quinlan Undertakers Gregory Barbers and the Rainbow Ice Cream team close behind.

Miss Margaret Hough and Ann Hosty led the women bowlers in the league last week. The alleys at 7336 Emerald ave. are turned over to the women every Tuesday night.

OTTAWA, ILL., PREPS DEFEAT PARKER, 20-12

Twice Winners Score After Intercepting Forward Passes

Two passes intercepted by the Ottawa, Ill. preps paved the way for their 20 to 12 win over Parker in a game at Ottawa Saturday. At the beginning of the final quarter Parker held the lead by a 12 to 6 count but Ottawa came from behind to trim the visitors

Parker scored first on the completion of a twenty-yard pass from Frary to Lutz behind the line after a series of line plunges brought the Gree and White into the home territory. Things were even up later in the same session when Dougherty, the Ottawa back, grabbed off a Parker pass and raced fifty-five yards to the goal.

Enos Breaks Up Punt

Coach Wasserman's boys went to the front again in the third quarter. Unable to gain from Parker's thirty-five yard line Ottawa tried to punt. Enos smashed through the line, broke up the kick and dashed nearly seventy-yards to his opponent's goal.

With eight minutes to go in the last half Ottawa scored the two touchdowns necessary for victory. Ottawa neared the Parker goal and were held for three downs Then Hackensmith shot a forward to Dougherty and the latter crossed the line again. The goal was kicked after this and Parker trailed by one point.

Ottawa Intercepts Another

Attempting to overcome their opponents' lead Parker gridders used an aerial attack. Guthrie intercepted one of the passes on his twenty-five yard line and started goalward. He was not downed until he reached the Parker twenty-yard line and from this point Ottawa crashed over with Dougherty again carrying the ball.

The Parker ends, Lutz and Enos played brilliantly and VanBershot led the line work Gustavel took the limelight in the backfield. Dougherty was the most aggressive player for Ottawa and Crosby also deserves credit for his strong defensive play.

MORGAN PARK CADETS AWED BY SPECTATORS, DANVILLE WINS, 20-6

LOCALS OVERCOME STAGE FRIGHT BUT NOT FOES' LEAD

Apparently suffering from stage fright when playing before 6,000 spectators at Danville, Ill, Saturday, cadets from the Morgan Park Military academy let the downstater trim them 20 to 6. All of the victors' points were scored in the first half for in the third and fourth periods the cadets never allowed Danville to make a first down.

Immediately after receiving the kickoff Danville players smashed their way down the field and Whitlock crossed the goal line Two long forwards enabled them to score again shortly afterward and a forty-yard aerial gave Danville another counter in the second quarter.

The boys from the academy made a brilliant showing on defensive play in the last two quarters but were unable to overcome Danville's lead. The cadets touchdown was scored by Beiles who broke up a punt and fell on the ball as it rolled behind the goal. Wickman tried two field goals from the twenty and thirty-yard line but both times the ball sailed below the bar.

Danville relied much on an open game but only about one out of three of the passes were completed.

HERE'S FIRST CAGE SCORE OF SEASON

Tri-Parkers A. A. nosed out the Englewood Christians, 21 to 19, in a hard fought basketball game on the loser's floor. Suess of the Tri-Parkers and Brown of the Christians were high point men, the former dropping in six ringers while the latter caged five

By virtue of Suess's stellar shooting in the first session, the Tri-Parkers were able to take the lead at the half by the score of 12 to 6 In the third and fourth quarters the play was more evenly matched. The final period opened with the winners still leading by only 17 to 15, but the score was soon tied at 19 all. With only half a minute to play, Gollin's sank a basket, and the game ended in a scrimmage immediately after the next tip-off.

BAILEY'S KICK GIVES STANDARD 7 TO 6 WIN

Bailey's kick after touchdown proved to be the winning margin when the Standard A. C. defeated the Englewood Grays at Ogden Park Sunday, 7 to 6 The Standards scored in the first quarter when Doss carried the ball over after completing a forty-five yard run around end. A smash through center gave the Grays their counter in the third period

Among the games carded in the prep league for Saturday the tilt between Lindblom and Harrison at Harrison's grounds promises to be the most interesting. Lindblom, by defeating Hyde Park Saturday while Englewood was humbled by Bowen, went to the front of the south section race but the West Englewood gridders will have to show some classy playing to keep up the pace.

Harrison is ever a dangerous foe and while Lindblom looks more formidable victory is far from certain for Coach Moore's boys. Comparative scores shed little light on the strength of the teams for while Harrison ranks stronger because it defeated Bowen, a team that tied Lindblom, the Gold and Maroon players appears to be best as Tilden, which they easily defeated, held the west siders to a tie.

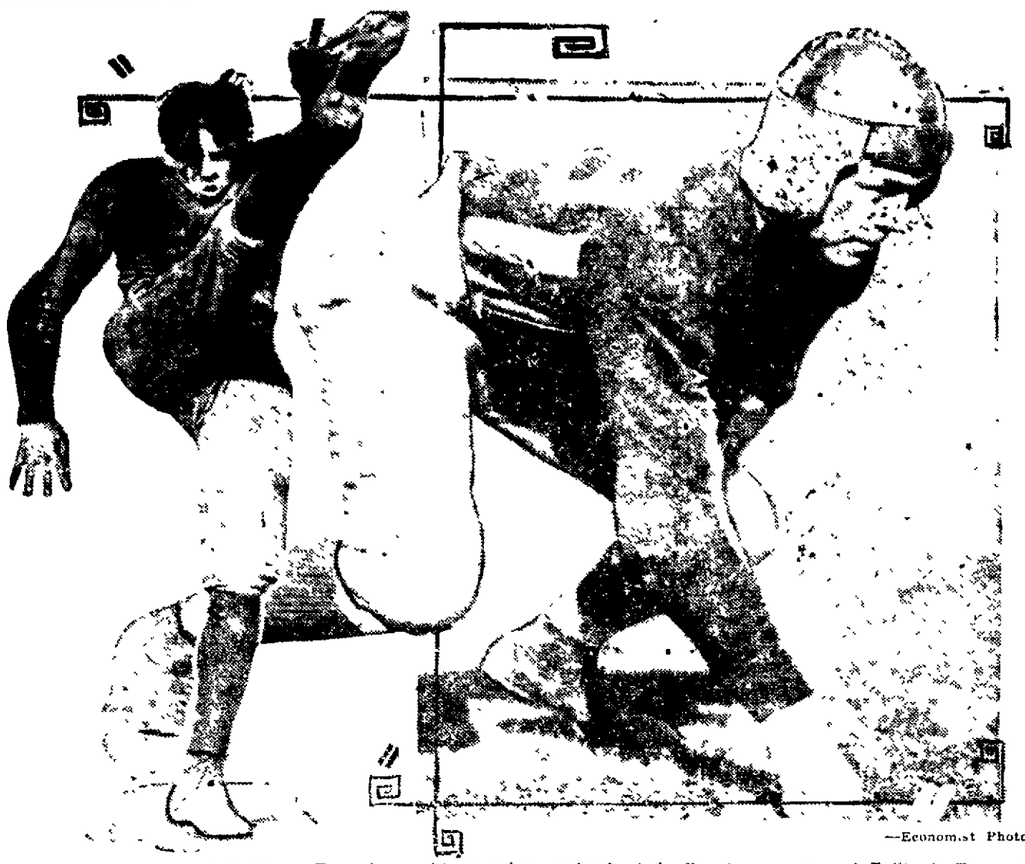
It is expected that Englewood will make a desperate bid to retrieve its lost standing by trimming Tilden while Bowen, the stumbling block of the Purple hopes, is not expected to have much trouble with Hyde Park.

Parker warriors will rest up during the open date allotted them in the B division schedule while Morgan Park will entertain Waller and Phillips will clash with Marshall.

The Chicago Cardinals will entertain pro fans when they take on the Milwaukee Badgers and unless they show up better than they did against Hammond Sunday indications are that they will suffer another beating.

ALTGELD SOCCER ELEVEN ENTERS SEMI-FINALS TILTS

Altgeld's soccer team entered the semi-finals of the Ogden Park tournament Thursday by nosing out St Brendan, 1 to 0. Hartman registered the point after the ball had been dribbled down the field by Coakley.



—Economist Photo

Spectacular work of Halfback Teetzel, caught in action as he booted off a long punt, and Fullback Fremont, who led the offensive work, was not enough to keep Morgan Park from defeat Saturday. Phillips trimmed the Hermosa ave. lads, 27 to 14.

CHURCH RENTS HALL TO OPEN GYMNASIUM

Rental of the Salvation Army gymnasium at 64th st. and Union ave. by the Normal Park M. E. church, 71st st. and Union ave., for Wednesday evenings has made possible the organization of a number of athletic teams. Robert A. Eastman, 7038 Emerald ave., chairman of the Church Athletic council, and his committee met Monday evening at the Normal Park church to make final arrangements for the teams.

A heavyweight basketball team has already been formed and entered in the Church league, while a lightweight team for younger boys will be organized. The church troops of Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts will also use the gymnasium for their athletics.

Under Milton Herder, 7128 Union ave., the coach, teams will begin practice Wednesday evening, November 5.

OGDEN YACHT CLASSES WILL OPEN ON FRIDAY

Classes in model yacht building for boys will be organized at Ogden Park Friday of this week at 3:45 o'clock in the afternoon. All interested who are at least 14 years old, are asked to report at that time.

The model yacht club of the park has ruled against admitting anyone younger than 14 as a junior yachtsman. However, those under 14 will be allowed to build smaller boats in the park's boys' workshop. Robert Cusay, new South Park manual training teacher, will be present to work with the boys Friday afternoon.

In the model yacht races at Ogden Park last Sunday, Henry Kennedy, sailing his new Volkyrie, was first, George Baron, second, and Thomas Drysdale, third. In the smaller class, Robert White, jr., was first.

BLOCH TRIANGLES BEAT SHERMAN CARDS, 27-7

The Bloch Triangles defeated the Sherman Park Cardinals, 27 to 7, Sunday, at Triangle field, 80th and Hermitage.

Corrigan, Bonner and Donovan ripped and smashed the Cards' line for long gains, while Bloch, playing end, snatched a forward pass on his own fifteen yard line, eluded tackler after tackler to score.

The Cardinals played an aerial game, completing many passes, but were always repulsed when within scoring distance.

LOCAL BOYS TO PLAY WITH COLUMBIA HERE

Five Southtown boys will be seen in the Columbia college lineup on Armistice day when the Dubuque, Iowa, gridders journey to this city to meet St. Viator's college from Bourbanais, Ill., at the Grant park stadium. They are Jack Long, formerly of DeLaSalle; Andy Evans, formerly captain of the St. Rita college team; Fred Maleahy and Red McGuire also St. Rita veterans, and Ed Hussy of Columbia academy. Eddie Anderson, All-American end from Notre Dame is the Columbia coach.

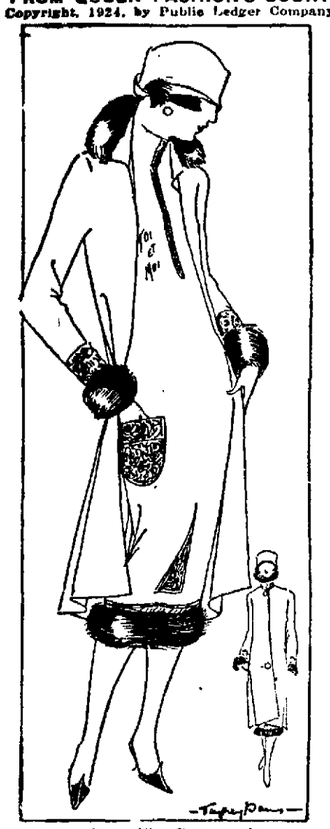
FROM QUEEN FASHION'S COURT
Copyright, 1924, by Public Ledger Company



Paris, Oct. 13.—Dressmakers must have been reading the fairy tale about the man who killed seven at one blow (flies, I believe) and inscribed the fact on his belt so that all fled from him in terror, for they are now embroidering belts and other parts with various legends.

Do not let me hint for a moment, however, that today's inscriptions are fearsome. Rather, they are alluring—like so many French things. One reads: "Ni moi sans vous" (Neither will I without you), another, "Suivez-moi, jeune homme" (Follow me, young man), which looks better in French than in English. Another says, "Perhaps," while today's model is embroidered, "Toi et Moi" (Thou and I). And, by the way, I nearly forgot the little afternoon frock which said, "Servez chaud" (Serve hot), which might be another form of attracting the waiter who takes no notice of the spoken word. Didn't some one once make a wise remark about the force of the silent appeal?

To return to the "Toi et Moi" model, however, which most would prefer to have unticketed. It is an attractive ensemble of green kasha. The high-collared, sleeveless tunic frock is cut on rather Chinese lines and is embroidered with silver and trimmed with brown fur. The coat, also of green kasha, is enriched with fur and silver, too. It is slightly shaped toward the hem.

The model is from Anna.

The natural sequel to a once popular song is now "Yes! we have no pajamas." And the up-to-the-minute Mademoiselle immediately produces her latest pair, for pajamas are just as chic as possible this season.

However down on pajamas you have been before, it's ten to one you'll have a sneaking longing to be "up in 'em" this season, for they are more fascinating than ever.

More than a touch of the Orient has pervaded pajama land this season. So far I have not seen one fluffy pair. The trouser part may be long and narrow; it may be fuller and caught in tightly from calf to ankle; or it may widen, Jack Tar fashion, at the bottom. Mor often than not this part might be termed the sober half, for the jacket may be as fantastic as any garment in a "Tousand and One Nights" illustration.

China still unfolds her treasures for the pajama designer. As a result, a huge percentage of jackets are either cut on Chinese lines or take on Chinese coloring. Thus orange, blue and black, purple, blue and gold, and red, black and gold are favorite combinations.

An Indian touch—perhaps a huge gold Buddha embroidered on black—may be noted, or from Persia may come the idea of embroidering a gorgeous bird of paradise on a wondrous velvet tissue.

Delightfully effective is Molyneux' model pictured. It is in flame and black embroidered with purple.

GIRL SCOUT WORK OFFERED AT NORMAL

Chicago Normal College girls are offered a course in Girl Scout leadership to be given at the college every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The course will include all that is necessary for a leader of a troop to know, the history, organization, purpose, insignia, and songs of the Girl Scouts, instruction in how to be a leader of girls, and a little of the woodcraft lore and technical skill that is required of a Girl Scout leader. At least one outdoor lesson will be given, to teach the girls how to make a fire, cook out of doors, and pitch camp.

The course will be given by Miss Thorsell of the Girl Scout offices and begins this week. No fee is charged college students but all others must pay $2.50 to enroll. Anyone who wishes the work in order to take a troop may make application to Miss Nellie E. Russell, head of the department of physical education at the Normal.

Woman's clubs of the third district have been urged by their president, Mrs. Wallace B. Combs, to secure women as workers for the Girl Scout drive which will begin November 6. Mrs. Combs is commander of one unit which will aid in raising the Scouts' three years' budget of $50,000.

YOUR VOICE

I just finished reading an article written by a famous woman novelist, in which she bemoans the fact that the girls of today are not what they should be. She condemns the "flapper" and compares her (much to her disadvantage) with the girls in mother's day. She decries their manners, their mode of speech, their lack of clothes and many other so-called shortcomings. She calls their "frankness" just common "boldness" and their actions "daring."

Lastly, and this is what impressed me, she sets forth that the modern girl bursts into a crowded room slapping folks on the back and shouting at the top of her lungs.

Now I am for today's girls, absolutely! I admire their frankness and their freedom—the way they go about unhampered by an over abundance of clothes. I love the independence of them and I believe they are more inclined toward square-dealing and "above board" methods than any former generation. But—I quite agree with my sour friend, the novelist, when she complains of their loudness.

I believe there is nothing lovelier than a lovely voice. Nothing is so indicative of good breeding, poise and charm as a slow, well-modulated manner of speech. Many women suffer under the delusion that they must speak loudly or even shout in order to be heard or to attract attention. The effect is just the opposite for if you speak softly your listener must, perforce, be attentive in order to catch each word; while a loud raucous voice is like band music—just din which most of us pay little attention to.

Have you ever, or rather, haven't you often sat in a street car or train and heard girls conversing in a loud, nasal tone which carried from one end of the car to the other? Without ever turning your head to see them haven't you mentally cataloged them as crude and ill-bred? Maybe they might have been nice girls who who would have been very much hurt could they have read your thoughts, but they paid the penalty of being misjudged simply because they had not trained themselves to a dignified, refined manner of speech.

Try to avoid head tones—and high pitch. Breathe deeply and concentrate all your efforts upon lowering your voice. Practice singing—it is wonderful exercise. As you go about your daily tasks sing a little. I don't mean to advise you to sing constantly to the possible annoyance of others, but when you are alone open up your lungs, breathe deeply and sing!

Above all things never be loud—you cannot be attractive and look your best unless you are acting like a lady. Never call to a chum across the street or shout across a room or assembly, and every time you start to speak try to remember that you will be judged, not only by the English you use, but by the tone of your voice.

ANSWERS

Laura—A bunion is a real deformity and calls for surgical treatment. There are braces and pads which are some times used with good results but I would advise you to consult a reliable orthopedic surgeon.

B. E. U.—Powdered orris root is the basis of all dry shampoos. Yours was probably perfumed and put up in a fancy package with a high-sounding name but I have no doubt it was orris root just the same. Those exercises for abdomen reduction sound very good. Keep them up, for the secret of success in any thing is persistence.

"Goldy"—Try a lemon rinse—it will bring out all the high lights in your hair. Yes, Golden Glint is harmless and will come off by the next shampoo so if you want to satisfy your curiosity try one and then if you don't like it you can get it off whenever you please. It isn't a dye you know, it is just a brightener.

E. W.—One hundred sixty pounds at your age! Well, my dear, you are about forty-five pounds overweight. How many years have you been overeating of starches and sweets? Cut them out temporarily and live on vegetables and fruits with a goodly amount of exercise for dessert.

A bright little girl, aged four, and her brother, aged six, were spending the night with their aunt. When bedtime came the aunt asked them how they said their prayers. The little girl answered: "Sometimes I say them on muddy's knees and sometimes to the side of the bed."

"And how about you, little boy?" asked the aunt.

"Oh, I don't need to pray. I sleep with daddy."—Everybody's Magazine.

When to Add Vanilla

Never add the vanilla to a dessert until it has cooled. The heat lessens the flavor of the vanilla, because it causes evaporation.

WROUGHT METAL RODS
By G. M. Tencate

Entirely new in curtain fixtures is the wrought iron rod, advantageously used on certain types of windows. It is adapted for those whose shortness precludes the valance because of its tendency to make the window-top look heavy in that instance.

Illustrated here is an example of the iron rod and the correct method of hanging curtains on it. The finish of the fixtures can harmonize with the color of drapery material.

Curtains should be pleated to the desired size. Small hooks are sewed on the back of each pleat about a quarter of an inch below the top of the curtain, then hooked into little eyes on the bottom of the brass rings on the metal rod. This arrangement allows one to take down the curtains at any time without removing the rod or rings from the window.

Ornaments on the wrought iron rod are removable as are the brackets at each end by which it is fastened to the wall with screws. Thus, if the housewife is moving to an apartment where the rod will not fit the windows there, she can purchase a new wrought metal rod at a smaller cost than that of the average polychrome rod and can adjust the same ornaments on it.

Metal tie-backs are obtainable to match the rods which are to be had in antique silver, gold copper and rusted iron or practically any metal finish sought. The rods are ornamental and bring out tones in drapes that are lost where the ordinary wooden rod is used. They are cleaned with the dust cloth or with water and retain their luster

ANSWER

"Puzzled"—Use a contrasting color for your drapes rather than one that exactly "matches" your taupe furniture and gray walls in the room with a west exposure. Mulberry with a taupe background should be a suitable selection. The reason you put drapes on your windows is to bring color into the room. The tone suggested is striking, yet will not clash with its surroundings.

MRS. McCUDDEN, 75, GETS ARM BROKEN

Struck by an automobile at Garfield blvd. and Halsted st. Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Mary McCudden, 75 years old, 5525 Ada st., suffered a broken arm and was badly cut. Robert Hill, 5752 Lafayette ave., the driver of the machine was arrested by Lieutenant J. J. Fitzpatrick of the Stock Yards station and charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Mrs. McCudden was taken to St. Bernard's hospital by a passing motorist.

Filled Cookies

Mrs. George von der Linden, 10106 Seeley ave., varies the contents of her cookie jar from the common sugar variety by adding a raisin filling. Occasionally she uses jam for the filling.

For the cookies she uses 1 cup sugar, ½ cup sweet milk, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¾ cup shortening, 3½ cups flour, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt. After mixing well, the dough is rolled very thin, allowing 2 pieces for each cookie. Put lower piece in tin, place a little filling on it, cover with second piece, and press down slightly on edges. Bake in a moderate oven until done.

1 cup raisins and 1 cup dates ground together, 1 cup water, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla cooked until mixture thickens makes the filling.

Tomato Salad

Preparing an ordinary dish in a new dress is an accomplishment of which any cook may be proud. Mrs. Charles Leonard, 6409 Yale ave., makes tomato salad in an appetizing shape by cutting small, ripe tomatoes into eights without separating the sections. These she opens carefully and sprinkles with pearl onions and French dressing to which a bit of chopped green pepper has been added. Heart leaves of lettuce form a foundation for the salad.

CITY-WIDE BODY OF FATHERS MAY BE ORGANIZED

Harvard School Club to Consider Expansion; Fellowes Is Re-Elected

A citywide organization of school children's fathers for the purpose of keeping closer tab on operation of the public school system is a possibility as a result of work of the Harvard Fathers' club. Action that probably will effect such an organization is scheduled to be the feature of a "policy" meeting to be held next month by the club at Hamilton field house.

Determination to ask for a citywide association of fathers was crystallized by advice from Dr. Rufus A. White, pastor of the People's Liberal church, who was a member of the school board for six years. His opinion, voiced at a recent meeting of the Harvard district men and women, was that school administration could be made ideal if all the fathers of school children made it their business to know all about the schools, from curriculum and salaries to policy and expenditures.

The club's next meeting was declared a "policy meeting" by President Harry L. Fellowes, after demands from the membership for school improvements at last Friday's election meeting of the club. He had just reported that, after waiting for nineteen years to get the building completed, the club had again been put off—for the fifteenth time in ten months—in its efforts to get an answer regarding the school's future.

Cite Harper School

Harper school, where portables were erected to care for all children in the district after a "parents' strike" against sending intermediate grades to other districts was cited by several members. The discussion was closed for the time being by carriage of a motion to hold the matter over as unfinished business so as to make time for the election of officers.

Mr. Fellowes declared that it was contrary to the ideals of the club "to use anything but the front door in its public dealings" and deplored a cry from the floor for "rough methods" in handling school matters. The more radical faction later put its arguments into a resolution calling for a citywide fathers' organization.

Hit Board Policies

This resolution declared that the dissension among school interests, "notorious in Chicago," indicates that the trouble is not founded on partisan politics but "is traceable in the present case to lack of perspective on the part of certain members of the board of education and to insincerity, captiousness and demagoguery on the part of others hostile to the school administration.

"This community's own school board representative (Mrs. Hefferan), has espoused causes of dissension and has held the banner for malcontents," the resolution continues, "though knowing that this is contrary to the wishes of the district and to the spirit of the Voiceless Majority all over the city."

The Harvard fathers have been organized ten months and there is a membership of 275. At a previous meeting, when the Harper school controversy was at its height, a proposition to take strenuous measures to get relief for Harvard school came up, but the membership decided to wait for the publication of the school plan commission's survey before acting.

Mr. Fellowes was re-elected after spirited balloting on the names of five candidates recommended by the nominations committee, which was headed by M. Hilkert. M. Dick Jack was elected first vice president; A. C. Kussmann, second vice president; H. R. Smith, secretary, and John Bryce, treasurer. The election tellers were Rufus R. Rhodes and A. A. Haley.

Some members objected to having to go outside the school district to meet and asked the officers to find out why a public school organization with no money and with its only object the betterment of school conditions, should have to pay for the use of public school buildings for meetings. Because of lack of funds, the club has had to hold its meetings in the Hamilton park field house, nearly a mile from the school.

NORMAL INNOVATES SEASON GAME TICKETS

Season passes for all basketball and faculty-student games are an innovation marking the beginning of the third season of Junior Conference competition by Chicago Normal college men. Sales are being made through section chairmen following an appeal for subscriptions by George Padden. Results of the canvass are recorded daily on four large thermometers in the front corridor. The passes are being sold on the installment plan.

Basketball practice has been going on since the first week of school, coached by H. G. Geilen of the art department. The team is not yet chosen.

Ornithology

At the entrance to the Zoological Gardens a man approached a keeper.

"Have you really got flying fish here?"

"Yes."

"I'll have to see 'em. Which is the way to the bird-cages?"—Lustige Blatter, Berlin.

MARK TWAIN BOOKS AND "TREASURE ISLAND" ARE BOYS' FAVORITES

DESPITE FLAPPER AGE GIRLS STILL DELIGHT IN LOUISA M. ALCOTT'S TALES

Sophistication of modern children has not extended to their reading matter, for the old favorites in books are rarely dusty on library shelves, Miss Bernadine McLaughlin, librarian, has observed. Fairy tales still carry juvenile patrons into imaginary lands peopled by gnomes and sprites.

Brownies' capers furnish the theme for numerous well written children's volume illustrated with modern pictures. "Good illustrations hold a child's interest and timely pictures of old stories bring the subject up to date for the little reader," said Miss McLaughlin, who is in charge of the Hamilton Park branch of the Chicago Public library.

Mother Goose is still the prime favorite of tots from 5 to 8, who come to the park library with older sisters and brothers. Her rhymes are unchanging in subject but their picture possibilities have been made the most of by modern illustrators. The Goop books by Burgess are an unfailing source of amusement and instruction for children. They treat of manners.

Little folk have been provided with a large number of volumes to stimulate their taste for good reading and of the many books on the shelves of the children's section 1,500 are for the very youthful reader, for from thirty to forty come to the library reading room each day.

Posters illustrating new books never fail to attract the attention of the juveniles, Miss McLaughlin has found. Her assistant, Miss Florence Hazard, has made some colored posters of exceptional interest and has executed decorative freezes for the book cases in the bright hues loved by children.

Ages of children using the library are so varied that a careful division of books to suit their taste has been made.

The children's department comprises about 5,500 volumes. Approximately one half of this number is fiction; the other half is composed of books of myths, fairy tales, elementary science, birds, trees, flowers, animals, industries, handicraft, amusements, literature, history, geography, travel and biography.

Stories and fairy tales are the most popular among children, but there are readers for all classes of books among the many youngsters who make use of the library. They come from great distances, often, but seem to think a long walk worth while if there is a good book at the end of it.

They are of all ages, and of a variety of types, all interested in reading, but distinctive in their tastes. Some books, however, are always most in demand.

"Huckleberry Finn" and "Tom Sawyer" always head the boys' lists, followed closely by "Treasure Island," with Barbour and Altsheler many titles not far behind.

The leading stories for girls are usually those by Louisa M. Alcott, "Little Women," "Little Men," etc., Montgomery, "Anne of Green Gables," "Anne of Avonlea," and Kate Douglas Wiggin, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

Younger children, both boys and girls, delight in the "Twin" stories by Lucy Fitch Perkins, and the boys who are thrilled by the tales of knights and brave deeds devour Howard Pyle's "Men of Iron."

There is a more careful selection of books in the children's department than in the adult, according to the librarian, so that parents may feel assured there will be nothing harmful in their children's reading as long as they use juvenile cards which prevent them from taking books from the adult room. During the school year, special attention is paid to reference work and home reading requests, while an excellent picture collection supplements the work of the books in giving information on industries, geography, famous people, etc.

"Y" AIM IS 6,000 NEW MEMBERS IN CAMPAIGN

"Six thousand new members or bust" is the slogan of one thousand members who are organized on 256 teams in seventeen branches of the Y. M. C. A. of Chicago, in a ten day campaign that began October 15. The present membership is 23,686. A number of local men are interested leaders.

The membership drive is organized on the basis of a political campaign. The winning candidate will be the one securing the largest number of members, each of whom will count as one vote.

The winner will be determined at a closing banquet to be held at the auditorium of Central department on October 24. Each team worker securing three new members will be admitted.

An elaborate scheme of honors and awards has been devised which will be in the nature of the spoils of office, viz:

The men securing the second highest number of members will be elected vice president; the man securing seventy-five members will be appointed secretary of state; fifty members, justice of the supreme court; forty members, foreign ambassador; thirty members, as senator; twenty members as congressman; fifteen members as judge of Federal court; ten members, collector of internal revenue; five members, U. S. deputy marshall, and three members, as village postmaster.

The campaign managers are Major John E. Scully, ex-alderman, and H. Ware Caldwell.

CONGRESSMAN SPROUL SEEKS RE-ELECTION ON EFFICIENT RECORD

Elliott W. Sproul, republican candidate for congress in the Third Congressional District of Illinois, is seeking re-election upon his past record of efficiency and loyal devotion to duty. His record for attendance upon the sessions of the House of Representatives and the committee of which he is a member is unsurpassed. He has been influential in securing the enactment of many important laws, among which are the following:

Elliott W. Sproul

The Budget Law which has done so much to reduce government expenditures.

The Emergency Tariff and Fordney-McCumber Tariff Laws, which protect the wage-earner and the business man alike.

The Tax Reduction Laws, which resulted in the repeal of the nuisance taxes, a 25 per cent return of income taxes for 1923 and greatly reduced taxes for all, but especially for those of small incomes.

Mr. Sproul voted for a special appropriation which enabled the Department of Justice to prosecute war graft an frauds, and to recover millions of dollars for the treasury of the United States, and has been a co-worker in carrying out a policy of closest economy in government expenditures consistent with efficient operation of Federal activities.

Always active in securing legislation to improve the conditions of the workers, Mr. Sproul aided in the enactment of the law providing for compensation for United States employees and took an active part as a member of the joint House and Senate sub-committee in drafting a bill and securing its passage through both House and Congress for increased salaries for postal employes. He has always been so fair to organized labor that he has its endorsement without solicitation on his part.

In his years of service, Mr. Sproul has risen high in his party's council's and his colleagues in Congress rely upon his judgment in matters of national importance, while his counsel is often a determining factor in party policies.

He holds the confidence and friendship of his colleagues, both Democratic and Republican, but is consistent and unfaltering in the support of the administration and takes pride in his long years of loyalty to Republican principles.

If re-elected, Mr. Sproul will continue to devote his entire time and undivided attention to the duties entrusted to him.—Executive Committee.—Adv.

RE-ELECT SWANSON STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Southtown voters are asked to support David I. Swanson, 7812 Marshfield ave., an attorney, who seeks re-election as state representative on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Swanson served one term with an excellent record for efficiency and ability. He was a member of the following important committees on which he rendered capable service: Civil service, congressional apportionment military affairs, judicial department and practice, judiciary and municipalities.

The Legislative Voters' League said of Mr. Swanson: "Ending his first term: an industrious and capable member who gave close attention to business and made a thoroughly good record."—Adv.

"If every woman in Cook County was acquainted with the office of Recorder of Deeds and the Registrar of Titles, and the administration thereof by Joseph F. Haas, present Recorder of Deeds and Registrar of Titles, there would be no question, Joseph F. Haas would be re-elected to his present position with an overwhelming vote of the women of the county," was said in an endorsement given out today by Mrs. Elizabeth Metcalf, one of the comparatively few women who are actively engaged in the real estate business in Chicago, and conducting a business of their own.

Mrs. Metcalf is in business at 5531 West North Avenue and is one of the active workers in the Cook County Real Estate Board.

"Women," she said, "are especially interested in the sincere, honest, efficient, business-like and courageous administration of public offices. Believing in running their own households in an orderly and efficient manner, they desire to see public officials transact the public business in the same manner.

"I have had occasion nearly every day to transact business in the City Hall and County Building. I do not believe that there is a public office today in either building which is run on a better and more efficient basis than that of Joseph F. Haas.

"One of the things which has especially delighted me in this connection has been the fact that a large part of the working personnel of that office is composed of women. In fact, without having the exact figures before me, from my own observation I believe that there are more women employed in that office than in any other office in the City Hall or County Building.

"It takes courage to run a public office on a business basis, and especially to make a change in the office which would decrease the number of employes just before election. I admire the courage of Joseph F. Haas in changing to the photographic process of recording just before the coming election. It takes a real man to do that, and is one of the many proofs that the office is being run as a great business institution and not as a political asset.

I hope that every woman who believes in honest, efficient government will remember to vote for Joseph F. Haas for Recorder of Deeds in November."

Why Oscar Wolff Should Be Re-Elected

On November 4th next the voters of Cook County will be called upon to fill one of the most important offices in Cook County—that of Coroner. Oscar Wolff, the present Coroner, is a candidate for re-election, and a few observations relative to the manner in which he has conducted his office during the past two years are pertinent at this time.

Immediately after having been elected to office, he realized that one of the gravest conditions the authorities of this County had to contend with was the ever-increasing number of deaths due to automobile "accidents." Carefully studying and analyzing the circumstances surrounding these so-called accidents and the Ordinances of the City of Chicago and laws of the State of Illinois then effective regulating automobile traffic upon our streets and highways, he concluded that not sufficient protection against careless and reckless drivers was given to pedestrians obliged to use our streets in the course of their daily routine and to children too young to look after their own welfare, in whom we are all interested.

In order to inform himself as to the most effective methods employed in large, thickly settled communities in combating this peril, he visited all the important Eastern cities at his own expense and learned first hand how the authorities there handled this perplexing problem.

Coroner Wolff instituted another important reform in which the public is vitally interested in the manner of selecting juries impaneled to inquire into the cause of such deaths. Under the system in vogue in the Coroner's office at the time Oscar Wolff took hold, the jurors in these cases were selected by the deputies assigned to such cases and the deputies, having many details to look after and sometimes two or three more cases to handle in a day, were unable to give sufficient time to the selection of intelligent and open-minded jurors and investigate properly the circumstances attending the death under inquiry.

Realizing that investigators were absolutely necessary to attend to these important details, Coroner Wolff appealed to the Judges of the Circuit Court of Cook County, who pass upon the number of employes to be allotted to his office, for more help and was told the County could not afford it and his request refused.

Undaunted by this unexpected lack of co-operation on the part of the Judge, he hired four investigators, paying their salaries out of his own purse, assigned them to cases in which automobiles were concerned, to investigate the circumstances attending the fatality and select substantial citizens, residing in the vicinity where the death occurred, to act as jurors and inquire fully into the details and fix the responsibility. These investigators also investigate cases and select jurors to inquire into deaths due to building operations, accidents in manufacturing establishments, etc.

Due to the greater care exercised in the selection of jurors, the number of careless and reckless drivers held to the Grand Jury on a charge of murder or manslaughter by coroner's juries has been doubled in the past two years, which result is responsible in no small measure in reducing the number of deaths from this cause.

OBITUARY

James McNally

James McNally, 74 years of age, died October 9 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. Freeley, 7812 South Shore dr., after a long and severe illness. Mr. McNally formerly lived with his daughter for twelve years at 7847 Halsted st., but he was a resident of Englewood for fifty years. During all this time he had been employed in the lard refinery at the Union Stock Yards. Besides Mrs. Freeley, Mr. McNally leaves three other daughters and a son, Mrs. J. C. Canavan, Mrs. E. Donegan, Mrs. J. C. O'Brien, of Portland, Ore., and Jack McNally.

The funeral was conducted Saturday morning from the residence to St. Bride's church, where solemn requiem high mass was celebrated. Father Lyons of St. Brendan's church assisted Father McNamara at mass. Father Lynch preached the sermon.

F. William Jann

F. William Jann, 7419 Perry ave., died Tuesday evening, October 14, at Wesley hospital following an operation. Mr. Jann was 63 years old. He was an employe in the repair department of the board of education. Mr. Jann was formerly a building contractor. He had made his home in the community the last twenty years. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Anna Jann, a daughter, Mrs. Anna Meysing, and six sons, William, Herbert, Leo, Harry, Joseph, and Edward. Mr. Jann was a member of St. Laborious Court, C. O. F.

Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock Friday morning at St. Martin's church and interment was at St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Marie Soltow

The Rev. Charles W. Tedrahn, pastor of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church, 74th st. and Michigan ave., will conduct funeral services at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, Tuesday, at the residence, 7210 Emerald ave., for Mrs. Marie Soltow, 85 years of age, who passed away Saturday evening. Burial will be at Oakwoods cemetery.

Mrs. Soltow lived in the community the last seven years and was making her home with her son, Charles. She also leaves another son, William Soltow. Mrs. Soltow was a resident of Chicago for fifty-five years.

Vincent Kenneth Lozeau

Toxine poisoning from infected tonsils caused the death Sunday afternoon of Vincent Kenneth Lozeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lozeau, 1264 W. 71st pl. The little boy was 3 years and 8 months of age. He had been sick only one week. Besides his parents he levaes three brothers, Clarence, John and Homer.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon, Wednesday, from the home to Mt. Olivet cemetery for interment, with Father William F. Long of St. Brendan's church officiating. Members of the Junior W. B. A., Gourley Review 168, to which the little boy belonged, will act as pall bearers and flower girls. He was the first member of the junior order to die. His aunt, Mrs. William Preston, 6547 Normal blvd., is junior commander of Gourley Review.

Mrs. Charlotte Ann Magner

Mrs. Charlotte Ann Magner, who was born and raised in Englewood, died Friday evening, October 24, at her home, 7747 South Park ave., of heart failure. Mrs. Magner had lived in Park Manor only two years, but had lived in Englewood most of her life. She formerly made her home at 6645 Lafayette ave. She leaves six sons and daughters, Mrs. Nora Berry, John J., Josephine Metzger, David A., Charlotte A., and Daniel B. Magner.

Solemn high mass was celebrated at St. Dorothy's church at 10 o'clock Monday morning and interment was at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mrs. Nellie V. Hancox

Suffering with rheumatism for two months, Mrs. Nellie V. Hancox, an Englewood resident for thirty years, died Friday morning at the residence, 5954 Eggleston ave. Mrs. Hancox was 58 years old. She leaves her husband, David H. Hancox, a son, David E. Hancox and a daughter, Mrs. E. C. Essinger.

The Rev. C. M. Kessler, pastor of Covenant Baptist church, conducted funeral services at the chapel, 63rd st. and Harvard ave., at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and interment was at Cedar Park.

William F. Arndt

William F. Arndt, a stationary engineer, died Tuesday, October 21, at the University hospital following an operation the same morning. He had been in ill health for some time and was taken to the hospital Monday evening. Mr. Arndt was 76 years of age. He had lived in Englewood for thirty-two years, making his home at 7125 Emerald ave., all of that time. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Arndt, a son, Albert, and two daughters, Ethel Arndt and Mrs. Grace Runyon, 9432 Prospect ave.

The Rev. E. J. Sonne of Bishop Cheney Memorial church conducted the funeral services at the home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and burial was at Mt. Hope cemetery.

VOTE NOVEMBER 4

Mrs. Melina Lizotte

The death of Mrs. Melina Lizotte, 76 years old, occurred Sunday evening of heart trouble at the home, 5913 Green st. Mrs. Lizotte had lived in Englewood twelve years. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. James Cochrane, and Mrs. Peter Callas.

The funeral was conducted this morning from the residence to Our Lady of Solace church, 62nd and Sangamon sts.

Mrs. Ella E. Rolfe

A second paralytic stroke caused the death Saturday morning, October 25, of Mrs. Ella E. Rolfe, who for thirty-two years had made her home at 6512 Perry ave. She had had her first attack last February. Mrs. Rolfe was 65 years old. She leaves her husband, Fred H. Rolfe, an old settler of Englewood, a daughter, Mrs. Flora B. Colby, and a son, Howard J. Rolfe. There are four grandchildren, Doras, George, Robert, and Carleton Colby.

The Rev. Willard Robertson, a former pastor of the Englewood Presbyterian church, who is now retired, conducted the funeral services at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home and interment was at Oak Woods cemetery.

Mrs. Rose McFarland

After an attack of appendicitis Saturday, October 18, Mrs. Rose McFarland, 31 years of age, died Tuesday, October 21, at St. Bernard's hospital. Mrs. McFarland had been living in Englewood for seven years and was making her home at 1239 W. 69th st. She leaves her husband, John E. McFarland, and three children, Anna, Jack, and Robert McFarland.

The funeral was conducted at 9:30 o'clock last Saturday morning to St. Brendan's church, and burial was at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Juna B. Sparling

Juna B. Sparling, a violin teacher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Sparling, died Saturday, October 25, at her home, 7017 Stewart ave., of spinal trouble after a four years' illness. Miss Sparling was a teacher in the Gottschalk School of Music for a number of years and also gave private lessons. The family has lived in Englewood about thirty-nine years.

Dr. C. Claude Travis, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Englewood, conducted the funeral services at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the residence, and burial was at Mt. Hope cemetery.

James H. Padden

James H. Padden, 50, 725 Indiana ave., died Sunday morning at St. Bernard's hospital following an operation for appendicitis the week previous. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Collins Padden, a son, George, and his mother, Mrs. Bridget Duggan Padden, also of 7255 Indiana ave. Three sisters and two brothers are left in addition. They are Katherine M., Josephine B., a teacher at the Earle school, Steven A., and George A. Padden, and Mrs. Edward J. Tobin.

Mr. Padden was a member of the Postal Clerks' association and was employed at the main post office.

Funeral services were held from the late residence this morning, Wednesday, to St. Columbanus church where requiem high mass was celebrated. Interment followed at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

REEVES STARTS CAREER WITH MEDICINE SHOW

For more than forty years Al Reeves has been recognized as an outstanding figure in American amusements. He comes again to the National theater the week commencing with Sunday's matinee, November 2, at the head of his own "Big Beauty Show."

Al was born in New York City and ran away from home to "join out" with the Healy and Bigelow medicine show. He had gained local renown as a banjoist and singer of popular songs, and soon became a big favorite with the audience that gathered to hear the entertainment which was a prelude to the sale of cure-alls of that period. Among the performers with this show was the now famous comedian Tom Lewis.

Later Reeves joined Thatcher, Primrose and West's Minstrels, and his inimitable banjo playing and rendition of songs and parodies were immensely popular. In 1894 Al won the Richard K. Fox diamond medal as the champion banjo player of the world, a title it is doubtful if anyone has had the temerity to dispute.

For thirty years the redoubtable Al has headed his own burlesque attraction, and his tour this season over the Mutual circuit has been marked by a series of ovations that proclaim him perhaps the most popular star in the burlesque firmament.

PLAN ELECTION NIGHT SHOW AT ENGLEWOOD

A special show starting at 11 o'clock will be given election night at the Englewood theater, 63rd and Halsted, as well as two night shows at 7 and 9. Election returns are to be read from the stage. There will be no advance in prices.

For attendance, all records were broken at the Englewood theater last week. The large crowds that were present at the matinees and night performances were well repaid by the ideal out time they spent in witnessing big time vaudeville.

The program to be seen for three days, commencing Thursday matinee, will be headed by the Mansfield Dancers, beautiful girls from the golden west. The Nifty Trio, offering infectious comedy, songs and dances; Miner and Brown, in mirth and song; Welsh and Madison Sisters, a trio of clever folk; Zoe Delphine and company in a novelty act; and one more act will be seen.

Irene Berry and her famous string quartet are to appear at the Englewood for four days starting next Sunday. The Rubeville four, Jean Granese and others from vaudeville's leading theaters are to contribute.

To break up your cough or cold over night take Edlund's Special White Pine.

You can feel this prescription take hold after the first dose or two. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and heals the inflamed membranes. It has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes. For hoarseness, sore throat, bronchitis and other diseases of the throat and lungs it has no equal.

Price 50c and $1.00 bottle

SAY "LEGION VOTE" IS NON-EXISTENT

Members of Englewood Post of the Legion have taken decided exception to stress laid by daily papers on activities of certain political candidates in rehabilitation work for disabled veterans. They say it is an effort to secure the supposed "Legion vote."

"If there is such a thing as a legion vote, we have never heard of it," said Walter E. Trotsch. "Certainly the legion is not pledged to any one candidate for political office.

"Under the constitution of the American Legion, it does not and cannot take any part as an organization in politics, labor or religious controversy. The legion has no ax to grind and is not after patronage.

"As individuals we vote as we please. As we strive to be good citizens, we do urge that everybody get out and vote for someone. Vote your politics as you are inclined. At this time there are surely enough political faiths to satisfy everybody. The legion and politics must remain separate."

PARK GYM INSTRUCTOR STABS GANG MEMBERS ATTEMPTING BEATING

HARRY RAFFERTY KILLED INSTANTLY; INQUEST DELAYED PENDING LAD'S RECOVERY

Trouble between John H. Morris gymnasium instructor at Sherman park, and a gang of boys resulted in death to one youth and injuries to three others Thursday evening. Harry Rafferty, 19, 5335 Carpenter st. died almost instantly from a wound in his heart while John Coyle, 7914 May st., is recovering at the German Deaconess hospital from a gash in his abdomen. Two other boys received slight cuts.

The instructor was conducting a basketball practice game when the gang burst into the gymnasium, attempting to break up the class. They succeeded in stealing the key to the gymnasium before being driven off. Morris insisted on starting his classes promptly at 7 o'clock, excluding late comers. This practice was the boys excuse for their conduct.

Fearing further trouble Major Frederic Kensel, the park director sent an armed guard of three policemen to accompany Morris from the park. Too late they found the instructor had left alone. While waiting for a car at 52nd st. and Racine ave. at 10 o'clock to return to his home at 5510 Maryland ave., Morris was attacked by a gang of boys numbering about ten he believed. In self-defense he drew out a pair of manicure scissors, slashing his assailants with the fatal results. This action stopped the attack long enough for Morris to find safety in the gymnasium.

A passing automobile carried the injured pair to the German Deaconess hospital where it was found that Rafferty was dead.

Morris appeared at the inquest Friday but was allowed his liberty until it is resumed after further police investigation. The inquest was continued indefinitely pending the recovery of young Coyle.

The latter, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Coyle, claims to have been in the class at the time of the fatal attack on Morris. With his parents he had spent his entire life at 5427 May st. until four months ago and had always used the park as his playground. He is a graduate of Visitation high school, class of 1923 and has been regularly employed as a stenographer at Armour and company.

Michael Griffin, formerly instructor at Fuller park, has taken over the duties of gymnasium instructor at Sherman park while Morris is being given a short vacation.
